BIRD'S FATE GIRL SAYS BROKE VOW OF SILENCE

Miriam Gleason Sobs Out Tale to Jury Charging Mother With Death of Baby Brother UNDER STRESS SHE HOLDS TO STORY

Account of Four-Year Secret Is One of Psychologists to Study; Defense Scores Point

The hushing of the song of a canary bird by covering its cage at night-time fanned the embers of memory and suggested to Miriam Gleason that she should tell her four-year secret of how, according to her story, her three-week-old baby brother was placed in a bureau drawer by her mother, Mrs. Helen Gleason, and so closely covered with a blanket that "after a while it never cried any more."

The suggestion given to tell the story, her resolve was strengthened, and she said that after leaving the Porter's "A Girl of the Limberlost" and a book entitled "Telling the Truth," according to her testimony on cross-examination today in her mother's trial on a charge of infanticide.

On direct examination, the weeping 14-year-old girl sobbed out the grievous narrative of how she went with her mother when they took the baby from the hospital to her mother's nursery home, where, according to the matron's testimony, the baby was born, and walked away with it "toward the water," where it was killed, and buried in the back yard.

ONLY SAW TINY
BUNDLE, SHE SAYS

The little girl admitted in reply to a question by Judge William R.
Skinner, associate judge of the court, in the defense, that she never saw the baby's face, but only the tiny bundle wrapped in the blanket. But she said she heard the baby cry
and she said that after leaving the maternity home her mother stopped at a foundling asylum and asked to have the baby taken in, only to be refused. She said, also, that at a nursery home her mother stopped and nursed it, but she did not see its face.

Whether the girl is telling the truth or displaying a genius for morbid fiction weaving, whether the baby was killed or not, the maternity home and the bundle carried on that pathetic walk was only its little corpse, are questions for a jury of psychologists.

LITTLE WITNESS
HOLDS TO STORY

The little witness stuck to her story, undisturbed by the adroit questioning of her cross-examiners. Often her answers indicated a mature mentality, as, for instance, when she explained her testimony in connection with a certain phase of the story: "I gave it only as it seems to me, I did not make it a fact. Continually she worked nervously with her handkerchief, and always her answers were thoughtful and responsive."

The bundle in the blanket was "On the whole," she said, "the baby weighed only 35 ounces or maybe 36 pounds and 5 ounces, according to the interpretation of the records of the maternity home. The matron said it was a girl, but Dr. Derrick testified that he had been called in attend it. It was said by Mrs. Gleason in her preliminary examination that the baby died at the place of its birth. The matron declared that the baby had never been paid."

The girl admitted on cross-examination that she did not see her mother place the baby in the suitcase in which it was supposed to have been buried in the yard, and that it did not cry while in the suitcase. The police searched the yard where the burial was supposed to have been made, at 673 Fifth street, but were unable to find any trace of the remains of the suitcase. The girl being the only witness to the strange incident, it is admittedly difficult to prove what the lawyers call the corpus delicti. There is direct evidence of the birth but not of the death.

COUNSEL NAMED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—J. Barton Paine of Chicago, chief counsel of the Shipping Board's Emergency Fleet Corporation, has been serving as counsel for the shipbuilding wage adjustment board, which has just fixed a scale of shipyard wages for the Pacific coast.

Pork and Cabbage Can't Break Hunger Strike of Militants

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The hunger strike of the militants of the Woman's party in the local jail spread today to the ranks. Miss Rose Winslow of New York also was in the jail hospital with Alice Paul, national chairman of the party, and both were refusing to eat unless the five other militants also doing time for picketing the White House got a better diet than the salt pork and cabbage on which they say they have been fed almost exclusively for fourteen days.

The hunger strike now is 48 hours old.
Headquarters of the Woman's party declared today White House picketing by silent sentinels would not be suspended and that pickets were coming in now from many states to resume the offensive on November 10.

U.S. Mission Arrives in English Port

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEAD WIRE TO TRIBUNE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Safe arrival at a British port of the American mission to the allied conference at Paris, headed by Colonel E. M. House, was announced late today by the state department.

Members of the mission are: Admiral William S. Benson, chief of naval operations; General Tasker H.
Bliss, chief of the army staff; Oscar T. Crosby, assistant secretary of the treasury; Vance McCormick, chairman of the war trade board; Balmain Colby, of the shipping board;
Dr. Alfonso E. Taylor, of the food administration, and Gordon Auchincloss, secretary.

In making the announcement Secretary Lansing said the conference at Paris would be essentially a war conference with the object of perfecting more complete co-ordination of the activities of the allied nations in order to attain the highest efficiency. This is the first time that the mission has made a definite announcement of the purpose of the mission.

"The United States, in the employment of its man power," he said, "and material resources, desires to use them to the greatest advantage against Germany." It has been an easy problem to determine how they can be used most efficiently, since the independent presentation of requirements by the allied governments have been more or less conflicting, and count of its own wants, which are naturally given greater importance than the wants of other governments. By a general survey of the whole situation and a free discussion of all the approaching conference will undoubtedly be able to give to the demands of the several governments their true importance and proper place in the general plan for the conduct of the war."

PLOT DISCOVERED

MARTINEZ, Nov. 7.—Hidden carefully underneath a pile of sacks of barley in the warehouse of the California Wharf and Warehouse Company at Port Costa, a glass tube which had contained an incendiary mixture of phosphorus and carbon bisulphide was discovered today—muted evidence that an attempt had been made to destroy thousands of tons of grain. Sheriff R. R. Veale, who is investigating the case, has no hesitancy in placing the responsibility upon members of the I. W. W., but owing to the fact that there is no way of telling how long ago the tube was placed, he has little hope of finding a clew to the identity of the criminals.

JUMPS INTO BAY

Jumping into the bay from the Olympic Salt Water Company's pier near the Cliff House, San Francisco, Miss Carrie Barker, 30 years, 725 Chester street, Oakland, attempted commit suicide early this afternoon because of ill health and belief that she was a burden upon her parents.
The girl and her mother, Mrs.
George Barker, were sitting on a pretect of telephoning, jumped into the water, and was rescued by a life guard from the Golden Gate Life Saving station, to which she was taken.
She was partially resuscitated and then removed to the Central Emergency hospital. She will recover.

OFFICER BLAMED

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Nov. 7.—Blame for the grounding of the steamer Governor on the breakwater here last Thursday night was fixed today on C. J. Nelby, third officer, by the findings of Captain John N. Ansel and Captain Karl P. Lehnert, Insurance inspectors of hulls and boilers.
Nelby's license was suspended for sixty days.

The findings stated Nelby gave incorrect instructions to the helmsman, causing him to send the vessel driving into the granite breakwater, cutting it in two and damaging the Governor's bow plates.

Three hundred passengers were taken off the steamer in small boats during the night.

SOCIALISTS' PLEA

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The executive committee of the National Socialist Party of Great Britain, which favors the continuance of the war until Germany is beaten, has sent an appeal to the national and international socialists in America to found an international organization of socialists of the entire continent. The appeal says the previous international socialist bureau was broken up by the bad faith of the German social democrats in August, 1914.

SUFFRAGE, HYLAN, ARE VICTORIOUS OF FREEDOM

Votes for Women Win by 100,000 in New York; Wets
Lead in Ohio State Count

San Francisco Elects Lull;
Most of Incumbents Win;
Eugene Schmitz Victorious

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7.—Although it probably will take an official count to determine whether Ohio has adopted prohibition, indications today, based on latest returns available, showed that the dry cause has won by approximately 2000 votes.

Errors in election officials' early reports would make it possible for victory to be with the wets. But as the situation stood at 2:15 p. m. today the dries, with 501 known and predicted to draw upon, will be able to overcome the wets' apparent lead in the vote as tabulated from 5021 predicts.

Prohibition effective February 6, 1918, will oust 6200 saloons in Ohio and cause 112 breweries to shut down.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Tammany is back in power in New York today after the greatest show of strength in its history.

John F. Hyland was elected mayor yesterday by a plurality of more than 147,000. In addition, Tammany captured every borough presidency, the office of controller, the president of the board of aldermen, re-elected the district attorney, and made it a clean sweep.

The vote total:
Hyland, 297,282; Mitchell, 149,307;
Hillquit, 142,178; Bennett, 53,678.
Fusion leaders ascribed the defeat of Mitchell to the fact that Bennett was also in the contest.

They declared the Republicans refused to follow the advice of their leaders to vote for Mitchell and realizing Bennett had no chance, they swung to Hyland as a rebuke to Republican leaders.

Hyland's plurality is the biggest in the history of New York politics.
Mitchell's plurality when he was elected four years ago was 112,203, a record-breaker at that time.

There were wild scenes on Broadway when the returns came in showing that the Tiger had been returned to power. Many cafes remained open long after the Mitchell administration's dictated closing hours and men and women cheered, took horns and blocked the streets shouting for Hyland. The expectation that New York would be wide open again after January 1 was heard on every side.

The socialist vote fell far short of what the party leaders had confidently predicted. They expected 250,000. Hillquit, however, proclaimed the result a crushing blow for "militarism and asserted New York had declared "for democracy and peace."

Socialists claimed the election of ten aldermen, four in Manhattan.
Tammany Hall was a merry spot today. Many Tammany enthusiasts were up all night congratulating those who were still on the job at daybreak.

SUFFRAGE WINS
BY LARGE MARGIN

New York had 2,000,000 new voters today. Woman suffrage is winner in thirty-two of the thirty-nine districts. Upstate districts cut down the lead which was rolled up principally in New York City.

Returns from 4576 election districts out of 5773 in the state on woman suffrage give: Yes, 601,847; no, 595,102.

"New York has gone over the top for the whole world in this suffrage victory," declared Anna Howard Shaw, one of the leaders in the battle. She predicted the triumph here would influence the British and French governments to grant suffrage to women.

The suffrage majority in New York City was more than 80,000.
According to present returns, Women have been fighting for votes in New York state for sixty-nine years, ever since Susan B. Anthony started the campaign in Albany.

Many districts in New York City went strongly for suffrage. The biggest "anti" vote was in Albany county, where the poll was two to one against the amendment. At least thirty-four counties, however, were carried. Twelve thousand women worked for their cause in the city during the balloting. There were joyful scenes, with hugs, kisses and real masculine back slappings at suffrage headquarters when word came that
"the cause" had won.

Loyalty was not an issue in the New York mayoralty campaign.
Mayor-elect John F. Hyland declared today, announcing he would continue to give every support to the President and the war.

"I want to make it plain to the world that there was no issue of loyalty or Americanism involved," he said. "There could be none, for I am as good an American as any man, as

DEEP PROBE FOR 'BUYING' OF FREEDOM

Prisoners' Stories of Promised Liberty for Price Referred to Grand Jury for Investigation

District Attorney Says Sheriff Is Unaware of System Created by Brokaw to Meyers

Just how sinister is the underground influence that is alleged to have reached into the county jail and to have afforded hope of escaping punishment on the part of prisoners; and just how many prisoners have escaped their just deserts through those same influences are subjects that will be gone into exhaustively by the grand jury as the result of the charges that Charlie Meyers, pawn-broker, erstwhile bookmaker and sporting man generally offered for a consideration of $1250 to "put on the street" E. W. Brokaw, a prisoner, accused of a number of robberies.

District Attorney Hynes said this morning, after further investigation of the allegations of prisoners in the county jail following disclosures made yesterday in Judge Condon's court, that he would immediately order a thorough inquiry by the grand jury.

PRISONERS' STORIES TO BE THOROUGHLY PROBED

The district attorney does not deny the fact that prisoners in the county jail have been promised liberty in return for money. His determination to probe the matter is not, however, based upon his judgment that the prisoners are telling the truth. He does not say how far he has traced the ramifications of this alleged practice, and avoids implicating any officer of any department. He declares his opinion that Sheriff Barnett is ignorant of the reported frequent comings and goings of Meyers at the jail. He refuses to fix blame on any official of the jail, but wishes to leave a clear field for the grand jury's investigations.

Sheriff Frank Barnett said today that he had no knowledge of the alleged practice of buying freedom from the county jail. He said he remains little or nothing to stop the Hague rush to Roulers, but five miles away.

In the opinion of British military authorities, Haig now entertains Roulers as his next objective. The city is most important to the enemy, as its capture would later mean the loss to the British of their chief bases for submarine operations, Ostend and Zeebrugge.

BERLIN, Nov. 7.—The Germans are continuing their pursuit of the Italians and have taken more prisoners, the war office announces.

"In the mountains and also on the Venetian plain, the pursuit is continuing," the war office declared today. "Thousands have been taken prisoner."

German troops on the Flanders front are holding a line along the eastern front of the village of Bosch, army headquarters announced today.

PARIS, Nov. 7.—The Germans made an attack last night on the Verdun front at Chauvigny wood.

COUNT SUSPECTED

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The case of Count James Minotto, son-in-law of Lewis F. Swift, the packer, was resumed before the immigration authorities today to determine whether the defendant was heard. The technical charge against the count is that he might become a public charge and as such be deported, but the underlying purpose is to develop whether he was a cog in the German espionage system, the carrying in of drugs and other contraband, and his multimillionaire father-in-law is standing by him.

DIPLOMAT HELD

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Nov. 7.—

ficials of the department of justice.

country with a party of German diplocountries which have severed relations with Germany and who are being concentrated in the United States preparatory to sailing for home.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.— Superintendent Jess Roberts of the railway mail service today recommended to Washington that he be allowed to employ women as railway mail clerks. The draft has made heavy inroads on the mail service forces and the shortage of men has caused postal officials to consider women employees.

Palestine, the war office announces.

LEAD WIRE TO TRIBUNE
WITH THE FRENCH-BRITISH ARMIES IN FLANDERS, Nov. 7.— British artillery today was bombarding Roulers, key to the German line of communications to the coastal submarine bases.

Capture of Passchendaele in yesterday's great push brought the British lines to within five miles of the railroad center.

From behind the lines British heavy guns immediately began their pulver-izing of Roulers. The bombardment was incessant today.

Capture of Passchendaele and neighboring villages puts the British on the very top of the Passchendaele ridge and with only a small remaining bit of the high land still in the enemy's hands. He was clinging desperately to this today.

High American army officers saw the British go over the top in the victorious assault.

Canadians held tight to the British victory at Passchendaele today.

They stood their ground all through the night hanging to the entire village in the face of heavy artillery.

The Germans had orders direct from Hindenburg that the ridge position must be immediately retaken.
The enemy massed tremendous forces for those attacks several times—but on every occasion British observers caught a hint of the menace, and British guns promptly put down such a fearful barrage around the remained land that the enemy was checked in his tracks.

TO MAKE STAND AT ROULERS FORT

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The Germans stand with their backs to Roulers, evidence determined to make the stand at that most important base until the last vestige of hope disappears.

Military Crisis Is Caused by the Italian Retreat

ROME, Nov. 7.—The retreat of Cadorna has caused a military crisis which gradually is being solved by the assembling troops on a previously established line and by the rushing up of Anglo-French forces.

While this is being done, fighting is going on all the time so as to delay as much as possible the advance of the Austro-Germans, who desire to take advantage of the situation.

The Italian army, faithful to the orders of its leaders, is fighting with a high morale and a firm spirit. Some time must necessarily elapse before an equilibrium probably is re-established, but all existing conditions give confidence that the fate of the great battle initiated twelve days ago will be concluded in our favor.

The Italians are confronted by an imposing concentration of the enemy's troops and materials, under orders of the German general staff, aiming to obtain on the front a definite decision in the European war by crushing Italy militarily and also by an internal political upheaval.

Instead, an unprecedented moral union throughout the country has been caused.

Alcedo Dead And Missing Number 21

LEAD WIRE TO TRIBUNE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Following closely the first casualty list in trench fighting, the navy department early today made public a list of one officer and twenty men missing from the American patrol boat Alcedo, submarine Monday.

Struck squarely by a torpedo, she sank in four minutes.

Of the ninety-two aboard, seventy-one were saved, indicating the greatest coolness by officers and crew after the torpedo struck. Naval officers consider it likely that many of these were killed outright by the violence of the torpedo's explosion and that others were stunned or too badly hurt to receive help.

Whether the trim little former yacht—the first United States warship to be lost in the war—had a chance to battle for its life or was strictly without warning will not be known until further details of the disaster are obtained.

According to reports, nearby vessels began the work of rescue almost immediately after the Alcedo was hit. As the survivors came in, reports more complete accounts are expected.

WAR ZONES COVERED WITH LITTLE VESSELS

The war zone is fairly covered with vessels like the Alcedo, patrol boats which in guarding larger warships and cargo ships from the submarine danger, they encounter the greatest danger. That more of them are not sunk appears miraculous despite the constant watchfulness of their crews.

The Alcedo, formerly a yacht owned by G. W. Childs Drexel, a Philadelphia capitalist, was sold to the government and reconstructed last spring.

NAMES OF MEN LOST
GIVEN BY NAVY DEPT.

The navy department announced that the following members of the Alcedo's crew were still unaccounted for.

BOCHES CUT THROAT OF U. S. SOLDIER

BY UNITED PRESS.

AMERICAN FIELD HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Nov. 7.—One of the American soldiers killed in the recent German trench raid had his throat cut. He was overwhelmed by Boches, backed up against the trench wall and a knife was drawn across his neck.

The wound was inflicted by a trench knife—a deadly tool carried by the fighting men for hand-to-hand battling. All wounded Sammys now in the base hospital were improving today. They will probably return to their units, eager for revenge, when the army surgeons pronounce them fit for active service.

Artillery fire in the American-managed sector continues unusually brisk today.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The first dependent of an American soldier killed in trench warfare to receive compensation under the government system will be Mrs. Alice Dodd of Evansville, Ind., widow mother of Private James B. Gresham, one of the victims of the German raid on American trenches in France November 3. She will receive at least $15 a month, $20 of which is the regular allowance and $35 the insurance payment provided by the government for every soldier. This is in addition to the voluntary government life insurance, for which Private Gresham may have applied.

Records here show that neither Private Thomas E. Enright of Pittsburgh nor Private Merle D. Hay of Glidden, Iowa, who were killed in the trenches, left dependents and consequently no compensation will be paid. The compensation to be paid any of the five wounded soldiers depends on the seriousness of their injuries. For total permanent disability they would receive $25 a month. In addition to the usual family allowances for dependents. Dependents of the twelve men reported captured or missing will continue to receive allotments of pay and family allowances.

New Quota Leaves For Camp District Number 5 Sends Men

Headed by A. H. Parrish, former clerk at the Key Route Inn, thirty-three men from district No. 5, representing the fifth contingent to go forward from this division, left this morning for Camp Lewis at 11:30 to join the Oakland boys that have preceded them. Board officials expect that this quota, which went to fill up gaps caused by the disqualification of members of previous drafts for physical and other reasons, will be the last to go forward until a new call comes from Adjutant General Boree at Sacramento.

Friends and relatives were at the Sixteenth street station to bid the boys farewell. Scores similar to those enacted when previous quotas left the city were repeated. There were many flags in evidence as the train pulled out, members of the quota waving French, British and American flags in numbers. In addition to comfort bags there was a box lunch for every man aboard, to insure him being well nourished and comfortable on the long trip up.

Among the names certified from District No. 5 was that of Francis E. Burns, a lumber checker employed at the Moore & Scott Iron Works, and more familiarly known as "Frankie" Burns, the fighter. Burns made no claim for exemption, but the shipbuilding company insisted on an industrial exemption, which was granted. Local board officials have protested this ruling on the basis that no sufficient ground exists for it.

HELD EXEMPTED.

Under the interpretation placed on Federal requirements today by Warren Olney Jr., chairman of the district board in San Francisco, Salvation Army officers are exempt from service as soldiers. The ruling was made in the case of William Dornin of San Francisco, and is of import to all boards within the jurisdiction of the district board.

"A Salvation Army officer is just as definitely a minister of religion as a bishop," said Olney today. Additional exemptions granted from Division No. 5 by the district board and re-certified to the local board include: Don S. McClain, Carl H. Deben, Ray Peterson, Barton E. Palmer, Norbert Robischung and Charles de Martino.

MANY EXEMPTED.

One hundred and fifty-six persons exempted or discharged from the service of the United States as a result of dependency or from other causes, has been certified by local division board No. 5, and approved by the district board in San Francisco. From this district Kenneth Truax, George Mello and Irving J. Lacoste have been added to those accepted for service.

The exemptions follow:

SHOWS GREECE AIDED KAISER

LONDON, Nov. 7.—A despatch to Reuters Limited from Athens says another series of telegrams which were dispatched to Berlin during the regime of King Constantine have been published and show the secret efforts of the former king to help the Germans win the war. One of these despatches, dated January 21, 1916, follows:

The King of Greece pledges his word to the German emperor that in no circumstances shall any soldier or native be employed by the government against the German troops or their allies.

Another telegram dated two days later says the correspondent explains the journey of Prince Nicholas and Prince Andre to Petrograd and London had no political character. It says the visits were intended "to draw closer the bonds which existed between the royal houses of Greece and the courts of London and Petrograd, bonds which of late have been much relaxed."

In later telegrams the correspondent concludes, King Constantine said that he could not do what he wanted to do because of entente pressure and the blockade.

INJURIES FATAL

As the result of injuries sustained two days ago when he was struck by an automobile, Henry T. Lawrence, a barber, died at his home, at 2638 Twentieth street, last night. The auto was driven by A. S. Mitchell, of 2625 Wakefield avenue. An investigation by the police showed that the mishap was accidental and no arrest was made. Lawrence is said to have stepped directly into the path of the automobile.

TAX IS OPPOSED

An ordinance proposed by Commissioners W. J. Edwards, the revenue and finance department providing for the licensing of auto stages entering the city from outside towns was tabled by the council today following opposition from Commissioner Jackson and Mayor Dore.

Both of whom said that such a measure would tend to drive business away from the city. It was proposed that a tax of 55 a quarter be imposed.

U. S. Fortifies Azores; Lisbon Asks Explanation

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 7.—Madrid despatches received today by La Nacion assert that the United States forces are fortifying the Azores and quoted Lisbon newspapers as protesting and demanding an explanation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Both War and Navy Department officials said today there was absolutely no foundation for Madrid reports that the United States is fortifying the Azores Islands.

KERENSKY TO CRUSH BOLSHEVIKI

BY UNITED PRESS.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 7.—Flatly declaring the Maximalists "threaten to open the front to Germany," Premier Kerensky today asked the preliminary Russian parliament to support the government in suppression of their attempts to seize civil and war powers.

A hostile break between the Bolshevik-controlled local Soviet of workers and soldiers and the Russian general army staff came today.

The Soviet military committee ordered troops at Peterhof, Pavlovsk and Tsarskoye Selo to disobey orders from the war ministry summoning them to Petrograd.

The government authorities acted promptly. They disconnected (probably raised the draw) all bridges over the river connecting the workers' quarters in the city and suppressed three Maximalist and two reactionary newspapers.

Kerensky's open indication that he proposes to use all governmental powers in crushing the attempt of the Bolshevik and kindred malcontents of the extreme radical ranks to control in Russia has been practically forced by the action leaders of the Petrograd Society of workers and soldiers in canvassing soldiers of the Petrograd garrison. Through Leon Trotsky, a Bolshevik leader, the garrison has been formally approached and urged not to obey any of the government's orders unless approved by the military committee of the Soviet.

In his address to the preliminary parliament yesterday, Kerensky said: "These forces must be suppressed."

The congress has not yet acted on the premier's request.

Sweeping changes in the high army command were forecast from the dismissal of General Verkhovsky as minister of war and his transfer to the Caucasian front.

"The military committee of the Soviet," Kerensky declared, "disrupted arms and cartridges to some of the workers. It is therefore necessary to consider that among a part of the population a revolt has been started."

The government has ordered the necessary arrests.

General Manokovsky, who was named acting minister of war, will make an investigation of all acts of General Verkhovsky, which led up to the latter's retirement from that post, it was announced today.

CAPTURED TROOPS TO BE WELL FED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Captured Americans in Germany cannot receive mail from home temporarily at least.

Through a technicality, the trading of the enemy act makes it unlawful for relatives to send mail into Germany. The act prevents sending anything to Germany without a license.

The Red Cross has applied for a mail license from the War Trade Board, which has been asked for a ruling.

"While I am sure if a letter properly addressed were mailed to an American prisoner in Germany it would go through and reach him," one official said today, "technically the sender would be violating the law and be subject to punishment."

Because Germany practices frightfulness on prisoners with starvation rations and inadequate clothing, America will furnish complete supplies of food and apparel for all her fighters in Teuton prisons.

This system, which will cost millions, is being worked out by the War and Navy Departments through the Red Cross.

In addition to arranging food supplies for the first of Pershing's men just taken at the front, the Red Cross is rushing 4500 tons of food to Disbursing Agent Ellis S. Dresel at Berne. This is enough to feed ten thousand men six months.

The government is not afraid Germany will seize the food.

"The question has been frequently raised," said the American Red Cross in a statement to the United Press today, "but the British and French systems, in operation since early in the war, have suffered a negligible percentage of loss in packages."

In addition to the regular ration described, which is the same ration supplied "America's" fighters in action, a special inviolable ration is being sent including broths, digestive biscuit, evaporated cream, malted milk, rennet tablets, jellied chicken and other dainties.

REPAIRS WANTED

Officials of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways were today cited to appear before the City Council Friday morning to explain why the company has not placed West Sixteenth street in more passable condition along its right of way.

Commissioner Soberg stated that the fire department has complained that it is impossible for the apparatus to cross from one side of the street to the other without danger, owing to the fact that the rails are three feet higher than the street grade in many places.

Dr. Ehrlich to Care for Teeth of the Soldiers

Dr. George T. Ehrlich, who for many years has been a practicing dentist at 3429 Telegraph avenue, has been called to the colors and has gone with the drafted men to Camp Lewis, American Lake, Wash. Dr. Ehrlich expects to be accompanied in the dental section of the army. While he is away his practice will be looked after by Dr. C. L. Foley, who is carrying on Dr. Ehrlich's work the same as if he were here.

RED TAPE IS CUT DUCKS PROTECTED

When a prisoner in the city jail needs butter milk which has been prescribed for him by his physician he will get it in a hurry if Dr. Kivir Smith, city health officer, has his way in the future.

"There is too much red tape in getting supplies," said Dr. Smith today when he discovered that butter milk was not on the prisoners' menu after it had been ordered forty-eight hours previously.

As the result, Purchasing Agent J. H. Brill met out with a can and the butter milk is now being rushed to the man who can't take much else into his stomach.

ECZEMA HEALED BY CUTICURA

Greatly Inflamed and Spread Rapidly. Itching Intense.

TEACHING FRENCH RED CROSS TASK

"Ou est le livre francais?"
This is the question asked by the American Red Cross of the public. The prompt response is expected to be: "Voici le livre!"

Hundreds of officers and men at Camp Kearney are to be instructed in French, and all the French books, text books, grammars, French and English lexicons, French magazines and newspapers in the homes of California, school books that have lain on the shelves for many a long month and year, are to be asked, as a gift to the soldiers by the public. The local chapter of the Red Cross has been asked by E. Whitney Martin, field director at Camp Kearney, for the Red Cross, to aid in the work of teaching French by the contribution of text books, novels, magazines, dictionaries. Lieutenant Leslie M. Turner is in charge of the French instruction work in the camp, and is teaching the men in big classes, with blackboard and chart. But they need books for private study and practice, conversion books and books containing the current idiom. Books should be sent to the local headquarters in the Hotel Athens on Broadway. There will be use for all contributed, as a similar call is soon to be issued for French literature for Camp Fremont. Fifteen thousand nurses have already been enrolled by the American Red Cross, and about 2000 have already been sent to Europe, according to a statement issued today. The Red Cross requirement for nurses has been slightly modified, the principal change being the lowering of the age limit to specially qualified nurses, and the placing on the eligible list training schools for nurses "which are recommended by the state board of registration," even though they have a daily average of less than the required fifty patients.

New York—Carried by approximately 80,000. (Incomplete).
Ohio—Lost by approximately 94,000. (Incomplete).

PROHIBITION.
Ohio—In doubt. Vote exceptionally close. Both sides confident.

New Mexico—Carried by approximately 20,000. (Incomplete).

GOVERNMENTAL.
Massachusetts—Samuel W. McCall, Republican, re-elected by approximately majority of 50,000.

Virginia—Westmoreland Davis, Democrat, elected by approximate majority of 30,000.

CONGRESSIONAL.
Connecticut—Schnyer Merritt, Republican, Fourth district.

Massachusetts—W. W. Lufkin, Republican, Sixth district.

Pennsylvania—C. G. Lyons, Republican, Twenty-eighth district.

IMPORTANT MAYORALTY ELECTIONS.

Cleveland—Harry L. Davis, Republican.

New York—John F. Hylan, Democrat.

Pittsburg—E. V. Babcock, Republican.

Buffalo—George S. Buck, Republican.

Cincinnati—John Galvin, Republican.

Harrisburg—Daniel L. Keiser, Republican. (Unofficial returns).

Toledo—Cornell Schreiber, non-partisan.

Indianapolis—Chas. W. Jewett, Republican.

loyal to my flag, as loyal to my country and as firm and determined in support of every act of the government in this war as any man.

"I ask the editors of the newspapers in this city and in other cities to give prominence to this declaration."

Socialists declared they had captured seven seats in the assembly. This is a gain of five. The soldier vote may upset the Socialist victories in some districts.

Merton E. Lewis is evidently elected state attorney general. He was the only triumphant Republican candidate for a major state position.

FUSION TICKET WINS IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Democrats and Republicans in Chicago and Cook county expressed gratification at the results of the election yesterday in which a fusion ticket carrying seven candidates from each of these parties was swept into office over Socialists. The election was held to choose the judges of the Superior Court and two judges of the Circuit Court.

Fusionists commented on the "split vote" in the German-American sections of the city. In several districts heavily populated by persons of German birth the vote was overwhelmingly for the bi-partisan candidates and in other German-American sections the Socialists were returned the victors.

LULL IS WINNER IN SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Labor won practically a complete victory in the election here yesterday. The returns this morning gave all the labor candidates a substantial lead with the three exceptions, Frank J. Hennessey losing the office of city attorney to George Lull, and Walsh and Nolan losing their supervisory vote to ex-mayor Schmitz and James B. McSheehy.

The returns as tabulated and given out by Registrar Harry Zemansky at 12 o'clock are as follows:

CITY ATTORNEY.
George Lull, Hennessey, 43,232
Frank J. Hennessey, 30,004

POLICE JUDGES.
Matthew Brady and John J. Sullivan, elected.

RECORDERS.
Edmond Goldschmidt, elected.

TAX COLLECTOR.
Edward F. Bryan, elected.

TREASURER.
John McDougall, election probable.

SUPERVISORS.

Ralph McLean, 18,762
Charles Nelson, 16,518
Fred Sulz, 16,012
James E. Power, 14,989
Eugene E. Schmitz, 14,008
Andrew Gallagher, 11,820
James McSheehy, 10,991
Con Deasy, 9,021
Fred L. Himer, 8,646
John J. Corbett, 7,641

Hennessey refuses to concede his defeat by Lull, expecting the returns from the western addition to cut down Lull's lead. It is not expected that a complete tabulation of all the votes cast will be had before tomorrow evening.

Only three candidates, and they incumbents, that received the endorsement of the Municipal Conference—Commerce and Finance department have been elected. They are Lull and Supervisors Powers and McLean.

The greatest surprise in the local election was the strong and successful race made by former Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz. Schmitz was not conceded a chance when he first indicated his intention to run. On the returns it would indicate that he will stand fifth on the total number of votes cast.

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Governor Samuel W. McCall and the entire Republican state ticket made a clean sweep in yesterday's election. The governor was re-elected for a third term by a plurality of 91,023 over Frederick W. Mansfield, his Democratic opponent.

The anti-aid amendment to the constitution, which prohibits the use of state money for other than state-controlled institutions, was adopted by a majority of 75,000.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 7.—Socialists elected two mayors in Indiana cities yesterday, returns showed today. John G. Lewis Schmitz was elected mayor of Elwood and Frank Leniaux, Socialist, mayor of Gas City.

Ora Wylie, Socialist candidate for mayor of Marion, was defeated by Elkanah Hulley, Republican. The vote: Hulley, 1877; Wylie, 1547.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 7.—Democratic control of both houses at the next session of the general assembly of Kentucky was assured by the result of yesterday's election in this state.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 7.—A mistake of 9000 votes in the count of the prohibition vote in Hamilton county was announced this afternoon by the board of elections, which probably puts the state safe in the wet column. The corrected vote, with twelve precincts missing, is: 28,256; against, 80,420.

IN PENNSYLVANIA.
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—On the face of unofficial returns today from yesterday's city elections, exclusive of the soldier vote, the entire regular Republican ticket went into office by a slim majority.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 7.—E. V. Babcock, multi-millionaire, will be Pittsburgh's next mayor. Complete figures of the vote in the non-partisan election gave: Babcock, 40,096; William Magee, 35,596. Babcock was supported by the Penrose organization.

WASHINGTON STREET AT ELEVENTH

Many Women in this Condition Regain Health by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Convincing Proof of This Fact
Ridgway, Penn. — "I suffered from female trouble with backache and pain in my side for over seven months so I could not do any of my work. I was treated by three different doctors and was getting discouraged when my sister-in-law told me how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped her. I decided to try it, and it restored my health, so I now do all of my housework which is not light as I have a little boy three years old." — Mrs. O. M. RUMES, Ridgway, Penn.

Mrs. Lindsey Now Keeps House For Seven.
Tennille, Ga. — "I want to tell you how much I have been benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. About eight years ago I got in such a low state of health I was unable to keep house for three in the month. I had such things as colds, coughs and asthma nearly all the time and could scarcely sleep at all. The doctor said I had a severe case of ulceration and without an operation I would always be an invalid, but I told him I wanted to wait awhile. Our druggist advised my husband to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has entirely cured me. Now I keep house for seven and work in the garden some, too. I am so thankful I got this medicine. I feel as though it saved my life and have recommended it to others and they have been benefited." — Mrs. W. E. LINDSEY, R. R. 3, Tennille, Ga.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

SEIZING OF PHONES MAY BE EVADED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Secretary of Labor Wilson will decline to consider the question of union recognition in his efforts to settle the threatened general strike of electrical workers employed by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company. It was stated authoritatively today. The secretary will also seek to avoid action leading to a consideration of the company's plan at the government.

Secretary Wilson and his party of federal mediators will arrive here tomorrow night and will begin immediately an investigation of the whole telephone situation. While Vernon Z. Reed, federal mediator, who has been attempting to settle the telephone trouble, would make no statement, it was declared on good authority today that he has received an outline of the program Secretary Wilson will try to work out.

It is said the secretary will stand for a graduating scale of wage increases for electrical workers of from 60 to 70 cents a day and will also ask for an increase for the telephone operators. On the question of recognizing the union of telephone girls, it is understood that Wilson will announce that this question should play no part in the adjustment. He is expected to declare that because of the war crisis union differences should be forgotten. Working conditions will be investigated and it is probable that some members of the federal mediation commission will be sent to the northwest to adjust the strike troubles there. Vernon Z. Reed may go to Seattle and Tacoma, it was rumored today.

Southern Unions Accept U. S. Word

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7.—Members of the Pasadena, Cal., local of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, forty-three of whom want on strike yesterday, voted last night to return to work today and members of the Los Angeles local decided to await action by the government before taking any steps toward a strike.

These decisions were reached at a meeting attended by 1600 electrical workers after R. E. Swayne, representing local unions in Los Angeles told of his conferences in San Francisco with officials of the Pacific electric council of the brotherhood and with Vernon Z. Reed, federal mediator.

Swayne told the electrical workers, according to those who attended the meeting the government had guaranteed the men a wage of $4.50 a day, recognition of the girl operators' union and consideration of a further increase in wages later.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Nov. 7.—Electrical workers and girl operators of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company here went on strike for the second time in conformity to action taken from unions in Washington and Oregon. After striking for several days last week, the employees returned to work Saturday. They now claim no agreement was then made, as stated at the time, that they would remain at work until termination of efforts to adjust the controversy.

Opera Offered at Macdonough Tomorrow Night

In presenting the La Scala Grand Opera Company tomorrow night in "Carmen" the manager of the Macdonough theater feels that he is offering to his patrons the treat of the season. The popular verdict has acclaimed "Carmen" masterpiece, and if the consensus of opinion could be obtained, it unquestionably would confirm the verdict. It contains incomparably the greatest of its arias for tenor, the "Tomb" song in the last act, and the "Habanera" in the second act, that can be found in any Italian opera. Like the quartet in "Rigoletto," it stands out in such bold relief and is so thoroughly original and spontaneous that it may be classed as an inspiration. The opera does not contain a joyous phrase and yet is never monotonous. Every aria, though its tone is serious and more often melancholy, has its own character, and the climaxes are worked up with great power. In the first act the contrasts are very marked between Henry's aria, "Cruda, funesta smaglia," the chorus of hunters, "Come vinti da stanchezza," Henry's second aria, "La steside in suo favore," in which he threatens vengeance upon Edgar, the dramatic and beautifully written arias for "Lucia," "Regnava nel silenzio" and "Quando rapita in estasi," and the passionate farewell duet between Lucia and Edgar, which is the warm ecstasy of committed love and sorrow.

The second act contains a powerful duet between Lucia and Henry, but the musical interest of the act centers in the great sextet which ensues when Edgar makes his unexpected appearance upon the scene of the marriage contract. For beauty, power, richness of melody and dramatic expression few concerted numbers by any composer can rival it.

The last act also contains two numbers which are the delight of great artists—the "Mad" scene, sung by Lucia, and the magnificent "Tomb degli avi miei," sung in the tomb scene, which affords even the most accomplished tenor ample scope for his highest powers. "Carmen" is in the repertoire of the La Scala Company this season, and is one of the most popular magnets for the music loving public. The title role of the opening opera will be sung by Nina Morgana.

OAKLAND BOYS ENJOY CAMP LIFE

Special to The TRIBUNE.

CAMP KILBURN, Nov. 7.—With laurels gained in the principal cities along the southern coast of California, the Oakland Headquarters band of the 150th Regiment has returned from a three-day tour of concerts. Bandmaster Dewey asserts that his players outdid themselves and compliments are showered upon the organization wherever it appeared. The tour was made by order of division headquarters.

The members of the band making the trip were Bandmaster Dewey Waters, Assistant Bandmaster Hollister Taylor, Jeff Anderson, O. H. Anderson, Macartney Fogarty, Gannon, Gravatt, Lutz, Asher, Black, Clement, Lascari, Lawrence, Maguire, Phillips, Ryley, Vervais and Dickenson.

Second California Regiment has just arrived in camp from Fort Mason and has been attached to the 150th Headquarters Company, which is commanded by Captain Haran.

The supply company of the 150th has a snappy little baseball team which is trying to grab the Regimental championship. Three of its members, Alfred Rice, pitcher, Louis Dupin, third baseman, and Mellette, catcher, have been sick in bed this week, which has seriously handicapped the team. Here is the line-up: A. Rice, pitcher, A. M. Rice, catcher, Sergeant F. A. Gill, first base, F. Mellette, second base and captain, Louis Dupin, third base, shortstop, D. Hansen, fielders, F. Hadley, X. Tamm, A. Frederickson, L. McDuffie, H. H. Kessling, pitcher, F. Herman.

The Supply Company is fortunate in having Lieutenant Rollins, a member of last year's All-Stars, as a coach for their football team. Sergeants W. A. Hart and Walter Beguhl, and Wagoner John C. Cook are trying out for the regimental team. Cook is a well-known football player, having been a member of the Berkeley High School State champion football team of 1916, and the Alameda County All-Stars.

DANCE IS FAREWELL. The Fox Club will give a serpentine dance and patriotic evening Friday night in honor of several members who have been summoned to join the Liberty Army. The affair is in the nature of a farewell and several novel features have been planned.

TAKEN TO SCHOOL. Erick Lyons, the colored boy who pleaded guilty to entering apartments at the Peralta apartments house with intent to steal, was this morning taken to the Ione Industrial School by Deputy Sheriff Brown. Lyons, who is 19, was employed at the apartment house.

Cleans the Blood Tones the Nerves. The gratifying results attending the faithful use of the new medicinal combination, Hood's Sarsaparilla, before eating and Peptonin after eating, are seen in purer blood, stronger nerves, improved condition of the whole system.

They are results that make this course of treatment the most economical for sufferers from impure, impoverished blood, weak, unsteady nerves—no other accomplishes so much in each case.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptonin aid each other, and to take both is to derive a four-fold benefit. If a laxative is needed in connection with them, the gentle and thorough Hood's Pills should be used. Advertisement.

TOMATO IS MADE TO TAKE CLASSIC ROLE

CENTERTVILLE, Nov. 7.—There is a lot more in domestic drama of, as evidenced by the display of the article which the Boys' Agricultural Club of the Washington Union High School has just closed at Centerville.

The tomato contest, under which prizes were awarded took cognizance of the Hoover characteristics of gross income, net income, color, uniformity, smoothness, ripeness, pack and crop conditions. The tomato was also accompanied by an essay on how the article was grown. The winner is to be announced on November 9 and will be sent on a transcontinental trip with other high school agricultural club prize winners, at the expense of the Farm Bureau.

The entrants were: S. Snow, L. J. T. Swain, L. Harvey and J. H. Logan. The judges were J. H. Moran, M. L. Mowry and C. A. Coleman.

THEFT CHARGED

John Seely, a visitor in the city from Alameda County, was charged with the theft of a bicycle this morning following his arrest for alleged intoxication that he had been robbed by a new acquaintance of $75. The man grabbed his purse and fled at Seventh and Washington streets, he said.

WOMAN MISSING

No trace has been found of Mrs. Mary Allen, 70 years of age, who disappeared from her home at 1107 Campbell street two days ago, leaving word that she would never be seen again. Her relatives fear that she ended her life during a temporary fit of mental derangement.

EFFICIENCY AIDS WORLD DEMOCRACY

If the Germans had thought 100 hours before they went into Belgium as to what would happen 100 years after they went into Belgium they wouldn't have gone.

This is what Professor C. E. Rush, of the department of education of the University of California, told the Advertising Club of the Chamber of Commerce. Professor Rush spoke in place of Professor Ira Howerth, who was unable to attend and whose address on the "Psychology of Advertising" will be given at a later date.

"Efficiency" as applied to democracy was the topic of the college man. He analyzed the difference between an autocracy and a democracy as the former being the performance of something "that arises in the minds of the people and the latter as the performance of something that 'arises in the minds of the majority'."

"Efficiency" he said, "according to the German idea, is the producing of results with the minimum of effort, life and time. Efficiency begins with wanting to do something so much that the world can't stop you. That's the reason the Germans are now in France. But the reason they are going back and not forward is because they didn't follow up."

USE AMERICAN TOOLS.

Professor Rush decried German efficiency, saying that one had only to read history to place the United States as the leader in tool use. He pointed to the telephone, the telegraph and the railroad among other things.

"Yes, and I can add the submarine, the airplane and the fighting trench," he said. "The Germans, it is true, have brought these to their highest effectiveness, perhaps, but they were all invented by Americans—the submarine and the airplane in the manner you all know of, and the trench, which is purely an American invention, through the discovery of the use of concrete." Conscription and price-fixing in the United States he held to be thoroughly democratic, conscription because the men to go to the front were selected by their neighbors, and price fixing because, he said, "it took the men and women of the nation hours totaling years to arrive at the proper fixing of prices."

Have You Many "Off" Days?

Do you frequently get up in the morning unrefreshed? Do you have to often whip yourself to the work you should enjoy? Is your appetite not as good as formerly, and are you pale, nervous and irritable?

If so, look to your blood; you may be developing anemia.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan

"The Red Blood Builder"

brings back the joy of living by enriching the blood, by creating thousands of new, red blood cells and by purifying old iron in it. When the blood is rich in iron and red cells it is difficult for the health to be below par, for strong, healthy blood brings nourishment and vigor to all the vital organs.

If you feel "run down," and this condition is not caused by serious organic disease, a course in Pepto-Mangan will help you.

Pepto-Mangan is also a valuable tonic for convalescents, pale, puny children, and weak, old people. Its color and taste are pleasing. It can not disturb digestion or hurt the teeth, and its good results are usually prompt.

Friendly Warning. Be sure to get Gude's, the only genuine Pepto-Mangan, as there are many imitations. It is sold only in the bottle and package, pictured here—never in bulk. Read circular around bottle. For sale by all druggists.

Pepto-Mangan is made only by M. J. BREITENBACH CO., New York Manufacturing Chemists

SLAUGHTER NOW BLAMED BY LAMSON'S

Special to The TRIBUNE.

OROVILLE, Nov. 7.—Declaring today that they are finally convinced that the Rev. Madison Slaughter, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Chico, was guilty of a crime against their daughter, Gertrude Lamson, and that his conviction was an act of justice, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Lamson in a joint letter to President of the State Bar, Mr. J. L. Gibson state that they will make no further efforts to interfere with the court's custody of the girl. Throughout the trial and ever since the conviction, the parents of the girl maintained that the accused man was innocent. After remaining in this frame of mind for two years, they now say that Slaughter received his "just deserts" in his sentence to penal servitude.

It was in January of 1916, that the scandal broke in the quiet little city of Chico. Mrs. Lillie R. Davis, a member of Slaughter's congregation, spread information that the pastor had been guilty of acts unbecoming a minister in the presence of her sixteen-year-old daughter. Mrs. Davis was summoned before a meeting of the congregation, found guilty of spreading gossip and her church privileges were revoked. She then filed a written demand with the board of deacons for a trial, stating that Slaughter had acted as judge, prosecutor and witness and had "steam-rolled" all efforts of her friends to come to her defense.

IN OAKLAND.

A week or two after this incident, Gertrude Lamson, fifteen-year-old daughter of Frederick M. Lamson, a doctor in Slaughter's church, told District Attorney R. A. Leonard that Slaughter, while his wife was absent in Oakland at the bedside of a sick daughter, had taken her for an automobile ride and had made improper proposals to her. She declared that on a later occasion, also during the absence of Mrs. Slaughter, she had accompanied him to his little ranch near Chico. She told of another occasion when she remained over night in the Slaughter home.

The girl said that she told these matters to her parents, who took Slaughter to task but made no public charge against him. The minister, according to the girl, persuaded them that her accusations were false. Gertrude admitted that Slaughter was not the only one who had contributed to her delinquency, but she stuck tightly to her story of his actions.

As the result of her testimony, the grand jury indicted Slaughter on February 1, 1916, on the count of seduction. He was at once arrested and released under $10,000 bonds provided by members of the church including the girl's father. He engaged W. H. Schooner of San Francisco and Guy Kennedy of Chico as his attorneys.

The first trial of the accused minister began on March 7 before Judge H. D. Gregory. Slaughter was loyally supported by his congregation, large numbers of men and women attending the trial daily. A jury was quickly selected and the taking of evidence began on March 9.

District Attorney Leonard had selected from the five counties the one in which Slaughter was accused of specific crime in his home on or about November 1, 1915. The defense at once began to endeavor to establish an alibi for the defendant on that date. The alibi was a bitter one, and throughout it all the mother and father of Gertrude were against her. Letters were introduced by the defense, written by the girl, in which she declared that her charges against Slaughter were false. These letters were admitted by Gertrude, who said that she wrote them under pressure from her mother. The girl's essential testimony could not be shaken on the witness stand.

Mrs. Martha Lamson in her testimony declared that her daughter was untruthful and that she had always been hard to manage, and intimated that she was mentally defective.

The trial ended April 3 in a disagreement of the jury after the members had wrangled for sixty hours. A second trial

Flying Examinations Are Severe Nicholls Tells His Experience

Another letter has been received from Allan H. Nicholls, Palo Alto boy, whose narrative of the drama and comedy of the war zone have been read with such interest by TRIBUNE readers. Young Nicholls is on the verge of his brevet lieutenantcy through his exploits as a member of the United States Air Service, and writes from the American Expeditionary headquarters. He tells in this letter of the tests aviators are compelled to pass, and of running down grouse in midair with practice planes as a hunting pastime. The letter reads:

September 17, 1917.

AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, AIR SERVICE.

This has become my address. I can tell you it comes with a great sense of relief. I have been waiting so long!

It came about in this way: Major Gros, Major Goldwaite, and a couple of lieutenant doctors came down here the other day and announced that they were ready to examine Foreign Legionnaires who desired to enter the United States Air Service. About 35 out of 53 signified their intention of being examined, but before the two examining days were over, all but about ten or a dozen came over.

The examinations were the most severe and exacting we have yet met, but they exclude no one who is normal all around and is the sort of man likely to make an excellent aviator. Only about three or four were turned down, one because he was over thirty years of age, one on account of a bone in his nose, and so on. The "mental" examinations consisted in just a few questions thrown at us while we swore to the truth of our statements, because they have been keeping tab on all of us ever since we entered the Legion.

PISTOL SHOTS "BUNK."

You probably have read all about the U. S. tests and know that the pistol shots, the sudden flares, and all that, are just bunk like the newspaper stories of the French tests for aviation.

For the test of the sixth sense, that is equilibrium, by the semicircular canals in the ear, I was stood on both feet, close together, arms outstretched, eyes closed, walked forward and backward, and hopped on each foot forward and backward with eyes closed, and so on. I was then stopped, and my eyes carefully watched as they regained control. My eyes were deadened with some fluid, and then examined and explored for range of vision and everything else. My ears were explored, and I listened to whispers and the tick of a watch. I had to name colors in various mixtures. Then there was a bunch of questions about seasickness and high places, to most of which he wrote no before I answered. Seasickness is all right to have, because it shows that your canals work well.

I just read a very good description of the tests in a Saturday Evening Post (September 1, I think). By the way, the August Scribner's (I believe it is) contains various types of airplanes, and some pictures taken by a Foreign Legion infantry.

was at once begun and on May 13, 1916, Slaughter was found guilty after a jury had been out for twenty-two hours. He was sentenced to fifteen years in San Quentin, and began his term of imprisonment on May 21 as No. 28,645. He was then 53 years old.

An appeal was taken to the higher court. On April 4, 1917, the District Appellate Court denied his application for a new trial. And on May 8 an appeal was filed with the State Supreme Court.

Slaughter was pastor of Oakland Calvary Baptist church for eighteen months during 1903 and 1904. He left his pastorate at the request of the congregation, not because of any specific charges, but because his preaching was considered "too forceful" and too candid in its demands that the individual should manifest Christian faith in daily life.

man. The Caudron is the plane we are flying. The Nieuport and Spad are the chasse (pursuit) machines, which we hope to fly eventually.

MAJOR GROS FLIES.

Major Gros took a flight with my moniteur, and then he left for Avord and the front, to examine all Americans in the Legion Aviation service, telling us that within two weeks or more we would receive our papers, all of which would be dated back to the day of swearing in. Those passed were definitely assured of a transfer. It may be a month, but I send the above address now to hurry up mail to my new address. This address will follow me wherever I go. I still leave my French address on the envelope, as you see, because I am still French and must use the French mail service.

With good weather I might have my "brevet" by the time I am transferred, thus becoming a first lieutenant. That seems hardly fair when you think of all the French aviators who are only sergeants or corporals at much less than American pay. I have a very nice note in French from Sous-Lieutenant Allard, the pilot who carried me over it all. But he has three service stripes and now flies a Morane monoplan, the most dangerous machine "afloat," yet he is only sub lieutenant.

U. S. PAY HIGHER.

An American lieutenant's pay runs much higher than that of the French officer of like rank, so they say. Some fellows figure they will be under the sod anyhow (dans un petit jardin—in a little garden, as the French say), and plan on spending it all. But I have seen seven French aviators still alive, so I figure on saving most of my pay and either traveling a little while I am here or bringing it home.

Of course, an aviator of the first lot to go over the lines above the U. S. troops stands small chances. The boches will go after us with all they have. I figure our chances vary inversely with the square of the length of the war. However, figuring on the end of the war by next summer, I still hope to be able to spend the money elsewhere than here.

Speaking of money, Doctor Gros paid us the last 300 francs due. I have found out from a man here who was in Section 10 in Salonique how to send money, so I have too much to keep Jack supplied out there. I am sending to him the letters I get from home, too.

SAW TWO SUNSETS.

This country is gorgeous with sunrises and sunsets. There is so much cloudy weather that no two effects are alike. The other night I had the unusual privilege of seeing two sunsets in one evening. The sun went down in a wonderful bank of color, and then came my turn to fly. I got in, strapped myself tight, and we went over the hangar to see the sunset half down. I confess I didn't watch it very fixedly because I haven't yet learned, with my sixth sense, to keep the machine in balance while watching sunsets, and while the moniteur is waving back at some friend of his in the road!

He gave me a couple of extra rides that night, and then bade me good-bye. He sent me up to the landing class. On the last trip, he suddenly looked around at me, pointed to the gasoline gauge, and pulled a long face. The tank was nearly empty, so we cut in and made it a short trip.

The landing school is at St. Avertin (I think that's the way it is spelled), beyond Tours. We go in a tractor and trailer. The field is a long, perfectly flat river bed, now a green pasture. It is about seven kilometers long. A sortie here consists of a trip down and back, making in all seven landings. The machine is

SEEKS ADJUSTMENT OF POWER RATE

An application for authority to increase its rates to certain consumers of electricity in Alameda, was made by the Pacific Gas and Electric company today. The company asked the Railroad Commission to permit it to increase rates by which certain consumers are permitted to discriminate against the majority of users in Alameda county. The company says that the number of favored consumers, however, is about one per cent of its total patrons in this district. Among those against which the application is not directed are the Union Iron Works, the Livermore Sanitarium, the Southern Pacific, Oakland Traction Company and C. A. Warren.

The cases in which increases are asked, according to officials of the commission, are about to expire. In the case of those specified as to be eliminated from the raise it is said that contracts with them have a long time yet to run.

"ZONES OF QUIET" ARE OPPOSED

Characterizing as "ridiculous" a proposal that "quiet zones" be established in the vicinity of seventeen schools, Commissioner F. F. Jackson today opposed a measure introduced in council by the Board of Education at the request of the Federation of Mothers' Clubs, pointing out that it would be "inconceivable" to seek to force autos not to honk their horns in front of schools when there are ordinances providing that warnings be given in passing schools.

In the first place, the new schools have in several instances been located right upon principal highways where there is much traffic. That was a mistake. Then we passed ordinances making it mandatory that street motormen sound their horns when passing schools where children are liable to run into the street and we have warned automobile drivers. Now it is proposed to legislate to the contrary.

The measure was postponed for further consideration.

WHEATLESS DAY IS OBSERVED IN BIG RESTAURANTS

Three large restaurants today observed "Wheatless Day." How large the saving was in wheat through the idea has not yet been computed, although reports in all three establishments were that large quantities of white bread were saved by the expedient of substituting graham bread for it and through calling attention of the customers to the fact.

"Wheatless Day" yesterday, when the public were requested on the bills of fare to refrain from ordering beef, mutton or pork, and when the menus featured fish in place of the meats, resulted in saving more than 200 pounds of beef in the Hotel Oakland alone, according to Manager Carl Sword.

Members of the Restaurant Men's Association say that every Tuesday sees the idea gaining in favor among their patrons. Next Tuesday it is believed that considerably more meat will be saved. Almost the only beef or mutton served yesterday was in orders for steaks or chops while the morning orders of ham or bacon were the principal items of pork consumption. All these items showed a decrease.

AGED MAN HURT

Ninety-two-year-old W. D. Scott, an inmate of the county infirmary, yesterday ventured to pay a visit to the big city, and after wandering the streets for a time his strength became exhausted and he fell on the sidewalk, sustaining a fractured nose. He was treated at the emergency hospital and returned to the infirmary.

SCHOOL INCORPORATED.

The Carrie Louise Walton school at 87 Vermont street has been incorporated, according to papers filed in the office of the county clerk, with the following board of directors: Carrie Louise Walton, Mrs. Shirwood Bird, Mrs. Eva J. Bray, Mrs. Jessie Robinson and John A. Deadrick.

Yesterday was an absolutely perfect afternoon, but the darn fool moniteurs got to chasing small grouse in the machine, and I fed and all the time. There were only four in my class, but I didn't get a ride. The moniteurs would go swooping and diving all around, and when they hit a bird on the wing they would land, get out, and hut around for it! Wouldn't that make you sore? This morning it rained, so there we are still waiting. I hear that the moniteurs were severely reprimanded by the chief-pilots. They needed it!

START NEW PUPILS.

After this school, which is in some ways the most important, the eleven (pupil) coes "solo." On good mornings a bunch of pupils are given their first hop, and this always draws an interested crowd. Pupils are given a Gnome rotary engine, and they have to take off and land on the other side of the field alone for the first time. I really come break up on this hop, because of nervousness and loss of confidence.

One man yesterday did what I wouldn't have thought was possible at all. He started his "taxi" along the ground, and just as he left the ground he swung into a "cheval de bois." He went off into the air sideways. Everyone expected to see a smash, but by a miracle he kept his motor on full, sliding sideways all the time, and finally his motor took hold and pulled him forward at right angles to his take-off. Everyone gasped at the sight, and the fellow straightened out and made a good landing. I don't expect to see that done successful again.

Sunday for us the same as any other day. The only way we know it is Sunday is by the crowds of civilians to "see them fly." The roads are always full of people on this day, as the French are great on promenading. At the landing field one of the moniteurs swooped right toward a group of watchers, and when all dove flat, men, women and children. They then moved away to a safe spot.

One of the delightful afternoon teas of the coming week at which the day matrons will share honors is that for which Mrs. Grayson McPike (Marie Cutten) has sent out cards for Tuesday next. She will entertain at the home of her mother, Mrs. Joseph E. Cutten, in Clay street. The guests of honor will be Mrs. Harry Spencer, Mrs. William Manton and Miss Ethel Frances Graham. Mrs. Manton makes her home at Redwood Highlands and her hostess was recently in Paris.

Miss Doris Bornemann's luncheon for Miss Ida Henshaw, given yesterday afternoon at the George C. Bornemann home in Vernon Heights, was one of the prettiest affairs in social life this week. The appointments for the luncheon were in yellow, varied blossoms combined with tulle and warty favors. Seated about the attractive table were Miss Ida Henshaw, Miss Elsie Bishop, Miss Dorothy Cawston, Miss Ruth Broyles of San Francisco, Miss Florence Ackerman, Mrs. Jack Martin, Mrs. Herbert Hall, Mrs. Ransome Henshaw, Mrs. Dudley Dexter, Mrs. F. Welwyn Dallam, Mrs. George Dunlap, Mrs. Pearl Cawston Fillmore and Mrs. Jack Mighell.

Mrs. Rollo Fay and Mrs. Arthur Piper entertained at tea this afternoon in honor of Mrs. Dorothy Bridge Wright, at the home of Mrs. Piper in Hillgass avenue, Berkeley. A score of guests were present to meet the bride-elect, whose wedding will take place the latter part of this month to Herbert Johnson Jr.

At her home in Piedmont Mrs. Albert Rowe is entertaining this afternoon, the guests to play bridge. Some of those who were guests yesterday were Mrs. Roy Baker, Mrs. William McKibben, Mrs. David Oliphant, Mrs. William Wells Jr., Mrs. Ernest Smith, Mrs. Ernest Jennings and Mrs. Roy Cowles.

To the regret of their friends in the bay cities, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cooley (Rosalee Ogden) are soon to leave for Arizona, which is to be their home in the future. Their home in Piedmont is to be occupied this winter by Judge and Mrs. Frank B. Ogden and their other daughter, Miss Marguerite Ogden.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Norwood Baxter entertained at a merry Halloween dance celebrating Mrs. Baxter's birthday and incidentally opening their new residence for the fall. The home was decorated in the insignia of that night. Among those present were Mrs. Alma Reed Brentlinger of Denver, a cousin of the hostess; Mrs. Alice E. Wright, Mrs. Robert Carter of New York, Miss Lillian de Sota, Miss Hazel Brown, Miss Marietta La Moore, Leo Cooper of San Francisco, Paul Gerson, N. L. Malchay, Lane Nesbitt, Clarence Glass and Harold Cohn.

A birthday dance was given last Saturday evening in honor of Miss Ruth Northon by her mother, Mrs. F. W. Northon, at her home in Claremont. The guest list included a number of the school set, who assembled at the home, which was attractively decorated in choice chrysanthemums and dahlias. Among those asked to share the hospitality of the hostess were Ruth Northon, Phyllis Swensen, Dorothy Jewell, Edna White, Myrtle Fielding, Christine Sorensen, Katherine Taylor, Bernice Studley, Inez Swensen and James Orr, Kelsey MacMeeker, Robert Donagan, Kenneth Horshev, Mason Delser, Melvin Simonsen, Thomas Gladston and Jack Ames.

The Wickham Havens home in Piedmont has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Porter, who for some time have been occupying Alta Vista, part of the Henry Butters estate. The new Havens home in Crocker Highlands will soon be completed. The Summer Crosbys are to reopen their home in a very short time.

Yesterday Mrs. Roger Haynes departed for San Pedro to be near her husband, who is with the naval reserve corps at that place. Mrs. Walter Van Dyke has just returned from

WOMEN'S CLUBS

By Edna B. Kinard

The most direct result of the entrance of the United States into the world war upon the women of the nation is to be a complete revolution of the old system of organization. Leaders everywhere are agreeing upon this, although as yet no one has been able to say just what the future is to hold. The past few years has seen a gradual federation of clubs working along similar lines. The war has introduced the Council of Defense, a national body working down through State, county and city units, federating all groups of women, no matter what the purpose of their association, whether of culture, religion, politics, fraternity, civics, art or fellowship. Women are being the more closely drawn together in the world sorrow, are finding a common working ground, are forgetting the ego which has marked their endeavor, and are working toward a higher standard. While holding the chairmanship of the State Council of Defense and at the same time the presidency of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Herbert Cable has expressed herself as looking forward to the November what splendid new achievement the days after the war will hold for the women of America in a new federation and a new working policy. Mrs. Frederick Turner, the past president of the California Branch of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, chairman of the national committee on legislation, and chairman of the Alameda County Woman's Council, is still an active worker who is expecting to see as a direct result of the war a revolution in the organization of the women forces of the nation, not perhaps destroying the local groups, but binding them together in a united mass for the higher tasks of the world.

The Mobilized Women's Organizations of Berkeley, with Mrs. Frederick T. Robson as chairman, are going to see to it that not one lad who is in the training camp in the college city making ready to do his best for his country, shall lack Thanksgiving cheer. Many of the chums come from homes so near that they will be able to spend the holiday with their families, but for those who must remain through the day of thanks in camp a happy diversion is being arranged. Some of the handsomest homes in the college town will be opened for dinner, the guests wearing the khaki of service being eagerly sought by the hostesses, who heretofore have kept the November feast strictly a family celebration. Arrangements are being made that not one of the boys is to be overlooked in the entertainment plans. In adopting the men who are within their own city, the Mobilized Women are not yet including the boys in other camps in their Thanksgiving hospitality.

"Making-Over-Clothes-for-Children" has no poetry in its sound. Yet with the cost of living steadily soaring, with incomes remaining where they were with Liberty loans, Red Cross, Egyptian, Armenian, Syrian Relief, local hospitals, philanthropies, orphanages That the work which has been inaugurated along the line of food conservation may be continued, the Mobilized Women's Organizations of Berkeley are compiling a book of war receipts which will be issued before the holiday season. Substitutes for wheat, meat and sugar that may be used in the several courses in a satisfying meal will be included. Mrs. Douglass Ross, chairman of the committee on food conservation with the assistance of a large number of experts and the volunteer help of the housewives of the college town, will edit the interesting volume.

Garis' Bedtime Stories

(By Howard R. Garis)

"Well, I suppose you are going, Nurse Jane," said Uncle Wiggly Longears, the rabbit gentleman, looking across the low stump bungalow kitchen at his muskrat lady housekeeper.

"Going where?" asked Nurse Jane, looking at the bunny gentleman's pink, twinkling eyes as he spoke.

"Why, going to the party Mrs. Kinkytail is going to give for her red and green monkey boys, Jack and Jumbo. She has sent me an invitation, and in it she says to be sure and bring you. The party's tonight. You're going, aren't you?" asked the bunny.

"This is the first I have heard about it," said Nurse Jane. "I won't be the last," laughed Uncle Wiggly. "I'm going out for a little walk now, and maybe I'll have an adventure. On my way I'll stop at Mrs. Kinkytail's house and tell her you're coming."

"I shan't," exclaimed Nurse Jane, with a sort of sniff.

The House of Clocks

by Anna Katherine Green.

The peculiar attitude of Miss Postlethwaite toward her indurate tormentor, awakened in my agitated mind something much deeper than curiosity, but when I strove to speak her name with the intent of inquiring more particularly into her condition, such a look confronted me from the steady eyes immovably fixed upon my own, that my courage bade me subside the impulse. I promised to return for her signature at the earliest possible moment.

"This she had herself requested, saying as I rose:

"I can still write my name if the paper is pushed carefully along under my hand. See to it that you come while the power remains to me."

I had hoped that in my passages downstairs I might run upon someone who would give me news of Miss Postlethwaite, but the woman who approached me to conduct me downstairs was not of an appearance to invite confidence. I also saw the intent and strangely bent figure of the old man who had acted as my usher, listening to the ticking of one of the great clocks. So absorbed was he in this occupation that he not only failed to notice me when I went by, but he did not even lift his head at my cheery greeting. Such mysteries were too much for me, and led me to postpone my departure from town till I had sought out Mrs. Postlethwaite's doctor and propounded to him one or two leading questions.

"First, would Mrs. Postlethwaite's present condition be likely to hold good till Monday; and secondly, was the young lady living with her as ill as her step-mother said?"

He was a mild old man of the easy-going type. Yet he showed some surprise when I mentioned the extent of Mrs. Postlethwaite's anxiety about her step-daughter, and paused, in the dubious shaking of his head, to give me a short stare in which I read as much determination as perplexity.

"I will look up Miss Postlethwaite's case more particularly," he said.

Monday's interview was a brief one. Mrs. Postlethwaite listened with stoical satisfaction to the reading of the will I had drawn up, and upon its completion she held her breath for the two witnesses awaiting her summons, in an adjoining room. They were honest villagers with but one noticeable characteristic, an over-weening idea of Mrs. Postlethwaite's importance.

I had lingered in my going as much as decency would permit, hoping to hear a step on the stair or see a face in some doorway which would contradict Mrs. Postlethwaite's cold assurance that Miss Postlethwaite was no better. But no such step did I hear and no face did I see save the old, old one of the ancient friend or relative, whose bent frame seemed continually to haunt the halls.

Pausing at his side, as she stood listening to a clock, I asked him how Miss Postlethwaite was today.

"Listen," he admonished me. "It still says No! No! I don't think it will ever say anything else."

I stared at him in some consternation, and then the clock ticked which was the tall one I had noticed at my first visit.

To see where he was walking, because he was so proud of the red ribbon, the skeezicks suddenly stumbled into a mud puddle.

Right down into the mud he fell, letting go of Uncle Wiggly, of course, and away scampered the bunny rabbit safe and sound, leaving the skeezicks and the red ribbon in the mud.

Then Mr. Longears bought a new ribbon for Nurse Jane, who went to the party and had a good time, but the skeezicks didn't.

TRIBUNE BUREAU
SAN JOSE, Nov. 7.—At the special election San Jose voted out the open saloon yesterday by a majority close to 1600. There were many surprises in the vote. One of the surprises was that only about 55 per cent of the vote was cast in the third ward—the dry belt—yet with even that small vote this section cast a majority of better than 2000 against the saloon. Probably the greatest surprise was that in the fourth ward. In all precincts where the liquor matter has been involved in the past the precincts in the fourth ward have cast a vote of approximately three to one in favor of the "wet" proposition. Yesterday, however, there were only about 2500 votes in this ward, just about the usual "wet" majority, and from this vote the wets were only able to show a majority of 333.

The two consolidated precincts in the first ward gave a "wet" majority of 805, as compared to 992 for the wets in the six consolidated precincts of the fourth ward, which leaves the first ward the strongest "wet" ward in the city.

The second strongest "dry" ward as regards percentages was the sixth, where there was only one consolidated precinct cast 500 votes of which 313 were "dry" and 187 "wet."

WILL CLOSE 78 SALOONS.
The bulk of the vote in the third ward came in afternoon, as up to

If Every Hound Had Appetite Like This, World Would Go to Dogs; "Hoover Is Right!" Says Decoto

Prosecuting Attorney Ezra Decoto of the police courts, has a sense of humor. Sometimes it glimmers like an engagement ring in a pawnshop window. Then again it breaks right out like one of his probationers leaving jail. But when a friend presented him with an Appetite Hound, his sense of humor failed to work.

The hound, according to Decoto, is a remarkable animal. It has a regular dog face and a leg on each corner. It sleeps on the front mat, and has the regulation number of legs. But around meal times, the appetite hound becomes a canine abyss that a squad of handsome waiters couldn't keep busy. The animal, says Decoto, is as anti-Hoover as a German plot and as empty as a shell pit on the French front.

Last Friday Ezra disguised his four-legged cavern to look like a German setter and took him to the pound. Then he went home and ate his first square meal. The next morning, the pound brought the appetite hound back.

"Nothing doing," said Humane Officer Osborn. "Your animal ate two iron chains, a fence picket, and one of our porcelain feeding dishes. We are afraid to take him into the asphaltizing room for fear he'll eat the gas. You owe us $3.90 already."

Ezra has chained his appetite hound in the middle of a vacant lot. There were weeds in the lot when he chained him there. Today the lot is a barren waste. This morning just before Decoto came to work, a neighbor hung over the fence.

"Say," he said, "why don't you feed your dog? He looks hungry."

The time Ezra found a brick, the neighbor had gone.

The prosecuting attorney says he will loan the hound to Pershing and throw in a Liberty bond.

"Just send him over the top into Germany and let him eat," he says.

COAST TO LEAD IN SHIPBUILDING

That the Pacific Coast will lead the world in shipbuilding is the word received by officers of the Chamber of Commerce from Washington, in the report saying that 1,000,000 dead weight tons of ships will be launched from the shipyards of the United States in the next four months, 6,000,000 tons will be launched in 1938 and thereafter it is expected that 7,000,000 tons of ships will be built annually in the United States.

According to the information received by the Chamber of Commerce, a large percentage of the work will be performed upon the Pacific Coast. This news comes following a conference Chairman Hurley of the shipping board had with shipbuilders in the national capital. The Bethlehem Shipbuilding Company, the newest corporation which now controls the Union Iron Works, was prominently represented at this meeting.

Chairman Hurley expresses himself as delighted with the spirit of co-operation shown by the shipbuilders. He gave out the following telegram regarding shipyards on San Francisco bay.

TO WORK DOUBLE SHIFTS.
"The shipbuilders of the Pacific Coast are arranging to work double shifts. In that way they will be able to use their skilled mechanics and men, and will be able to fill up the full quota with unskilled men."

"The shipbuilders have been promised enough extra orders to allow them to keep their plants working to advantage. Many employers are enlarging their plants and account of the mild climate of the coast, they hope to lead the world in production."

MILLION TONS BY MARCH.
Chairman Hurley pointed out that in the whole of 1936 the United States turned out a little more than 750,000 tons of shipbuilding. The expectations were that between now and the first of March it would turn out about 1,000,000 tons.

"Thus," he said, "we will achieve in four months what we have been accomplishing in twelve months."

"The young Americans in the trenches are offering the supreme sacrifice of their lives for the honor of their country. Their safety and their success depend on the fact that everything we have to give will be given in the same spirit of unselfishness."

San Francisco News Brevities

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—A slacker raid on lodging houses on Third street last night resulted in the following being booked en route to the United States marshal's office: George Getz, Austrian, 23; David Miller, 22; Otto Boppe, German, 21; Raymond Starnich, Austrian, 21; Frank Page, 21; German; John Keene, 24. It was indicated that two of the above men are wanted in connection with the handling of I. W. W. propaganda which resulted in the indictment of local I. W. W. officers, Louis Parenti, George Speed and Peter McEvoy.

John Kunz, a watchman, was discovered drowned in a swimming tank at Suto Baths this morning after his body had been found floating on the surface of the water.

Oscar Carlson, held today on charges of having counterfeited coins in his possession, was arrested on complaint of his wife who accused him of paying her alimony with bogus coin.

The wholesale robbery in the Civic Center Hotel, 20 Twelfth street, was revealed this morning to have been made by Arthur Spielmann, a former clerk arrested on the complaint of the proprietor, Anthony J. Wilker. Valuable jewelry and clothing amounting to $1500 was identified by the guests. Spielmann had presented his wife Olga with the jewelry and a complete outfit of baby clothing which he had purchased from the proceeds of the stolen goods.

CHEAP GASOLINE
CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Louis Bond Cherry of Kansas City, who claims to have discovered an electro-chemical process that will produce gasoline so cheaply it can be sold for 10 cents a gallon or less, announced here before leaving for Kansas City that he had tendered the process to the government without royalties.

Cherry declared the process probably will be tried out by the government soon under auspices of the national council of defense.

MAGNESITE ROW BROUGHT TO END

Litigation over the famous Santa Clara county deposits of the Western Magnesite Company, 22 miles from Livermore, which has been in the courts for more than a year and has involved charge of fraud and misconduct between prominent men in Alameda county, armed skirmishes between conflicting forces, and the appointment of a receiver, has been gradually ended through a decision handed down by Superior Judge Murasky in San Francisco.

The case is one of the most complicated in the state's legal history. James Cummings, a stockholder, and president of the magnesite bank, was originally in possession of Red Mountain, where the deposits lie. Hugh L. Stack and George Fuller, fellow stockholders, attempted to have this possession transferred to themselves. Cummings alleged the interest of the two men was void and closed the mine down, putting his brother-in-law, Nelson Updyke, and an armed force of guards in charge.

Stack and Fuller had L. E. Boyle of San Francisco appointed receiver. Cummings then took the action to the Federal court but Judge Van Fleet sustained the appointment of the receiver. The latter then took possession, bringing a truck load of rifles and ammunition to hold the property against invasion. The trouble was originally caused, it is claimed, by a deadlock in the directorate.

Under Judge Murasky's decision, just rendered, Cummings and Thomas E. Wolfe, stockholders of the company, must return $88,150 which they have paid out. Of this amount Cummings secured $11,000 on a promissory note and $20,350 in salary. Wolfe must return $4800 he received as salary. The court must also return a joint amount of $2000 which they acquired, it is claimed, through raising their own salaries. The decision was the result of an action brought by A. J. Barton, a stockholder, to oust Cummings and Wolfe from office.

America imported 800,000 tons of magnesite per month prior to the war. The material is badly needed at the present time, the company's profits being increased by $1,000,000. It is estimated by experts that there are 100,000,000 tons in Red Mountain.

WAR FETE OPENS

With the big arena in the Oakland Civic Auditorium transformed into a brilliant replica of a holiday market in Europe, the big fete of the combined Portuguese societies, at which funds are expected to be raised for the care of the Portuguese soldiers in the trenches, opened today. The festival, which is being given for the benefit of the Portuguese soldiers in the trenches, opened this afternoon for four days. The great hall is brilliant with the colors of the hostess representing all nations and presided over by the pretty maids and matrons of the combined societies.

Surrounding the center space, which is given over to a big free market and an array of refreshments, where refreshments are served, are the picturesque European and Oriental booths of the bazaar. It is expected that $10,000 will be realized from the four days' sale and many opportunities are afforded the Christmas shopper. An artistic and musical program will be given in conjunction with music by a forty-piece military band in addition to the festivities at the various booths, afternoons and nights.

Monday night, with a grand ball. The committee in charge of the big affair is composed of the following: Honorary presidents, Jose Soares and Mme. J. Soares; president, F. J. Cunha; vice-presidents, Mrs. Anna de Martins, Miss Anna L. Silveira, Dr. J. L. de Faria; secretaries, Mario B. Camara, F. C. Serpa and G. A. de Amaral; treasurer, Portugal-American Bank of San Francisco.

ORPHANS' BENEFIT

The east bay parlors of the Native Sons of the Golden West and the Native Daughters of the Golden West are co-operating in the success of the big benefit theater party at the Orpheum theater on the evening of December 3 for the homeless children fund of the State of California.

The Native Sons for a number of years have been in charge of this work and as a result have found homes for more than 1000 orphans in the State. It is intended to raise a large sum of money to carry on this work and every east bay native will do his share.

The arrangement for the benefit party consists of E. E. Garmon, chairman; Frank Carr, J. J. Dignan, Mrs. Adelle Mosher, Mrs. Nellie de Blois, grand first vice-president of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, and a number of auxiliary committee will be appointed this week.

TEACH WORKERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The government's first school for training shipyard workers will be opened, the Shipping Board announced, at Newport News, Va., on November 13. Two hundred picked workmen from steel building yards in various parts of the country, the first pupils will be given a six weeks' intensive course in modern shipbuilding.

The men will be taught in the plant of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, which was constructed both in the theory and practice of shipbuilding. They will be trained especially with a view to their teaching other men when they return to the plants in which they are employed. All the men will receive the school at the expense of their employers.

WILL START WORK

The Edwin Forrest Forge Company, which purchased a site near the estuary in East Oakland about six months ago, will commence operations in its newly completed plant at Ford street and Broadway Monday. The shops occupy a site about 100 by 100 feet, and represent a considerable investment for machinery and equipment.

A force of thirty or more employees, the majority of whom must be expert machine shop workmen, will operate the plant. The forge company will turn out steam hammer work, machine machinery, rollers, mining and milling machinery and other equipment.

This is the only plant of its kind on this side of the bay. It is a branch of the Edwin Forrest Forge Company, long established in San Francisco.

IN AUTO WRECK

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Allen, who are motoring in Southern California, figured in an auto accident a few days ago but escaped injury. Their motor was crashed into by another car. Full details of the accident were not given in the report sent Alameda relatives, but the Allen and their machine were able to continue the tour. Mrs. Allen was Miss Alma Robinson before her marriage.

KILLED IN FIGHT

LONG BEACH, Nov. 7.—Neal Beaton, baker at the naval station near here, died there today following injuries received in a boxing match with another enlisted man last night. Beaton received a severe blow on the head and was unconscious when picked up. He came here recently from Pueblo, Colorado, where his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Beaton, resides.

COMPLETE PLANS TO MAKE 'PLANES

Plans for the co-operative airplane factory as a joint industry by a number of Oakland's largest industrial plants, who, by building a central assembling plant and utilizing their waste machine time to make various parts expect to keep the assemblers busy on government contracts, will be actually gotten under way Thursday night, when the Manufacturers' Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce will meet to hear reports of the special committee.

The plan calls for various factories to manufacture certain specified airplane parts, every plant owning a lathe or other machine to be assigned some part that can be made. Every moment the machines are not engaged in the regular business of the factories will be devoted to the parts assigned, which will be taken to the central plant for assembling. The committee is assured of government orders for all machines that can be turned out in this manner. The factories will share the profits.

The principal parts and materials are assured. Fabric will be made at the California Cotton Mills, motors at the Hall-Scott Company and several other gas engine works, motor parts to be taken to the engine works for assembling by the Merchant Calculating Machine Company and various smaller machine shops, wooden frames by a number of wood working companies, and wire and incidentals by the local wire companies. The manufacturers will appoint their committees for the coming year at Thursday night's meeting, and Chairman John Millar will outline this week before the bureau for the coming twelve months.

TRADE GOES UP

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 7.—American exchange was buoyant Monday and Tuesday on the Stock Exchange on the report from Christiania that arrangements for the resumption of certain export goods to Norway were about completed. The dollar rose from 280 to 290.

TRACE DISEASE TO CONSTIPATION

One of the points on which different schools of medicine practically agree is that about 85 per cent of all human disease is directly traceable to intestinal putrefaction of stomach waste due to inactivity of the bowels, or constipation. The eliminative process of the body, acting through the bowels, and on its proper functioning depends the welfare of the entire system.

Constipation is a condition that should never be neglected. As soon as the bowels evidence the least disposition toward constipation, a mild laxative should be taken. The combination of simple laxative with aperient, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle, is highly recommended as a corrective, acting gently in an easy, natural way, without griping or other pain or discomfort. A trial bottle of this excellent family remedy can be obtained free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. M. Caldwell, 436 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

HOW TO PREVENT APPENDICITIS

Appendicitis is primarily due to the poison formed by decaying food in the bowels. It is a disease caused by improper and insufficient bowel elimination. Stools, which are the waste products of the body, are held in the bowels and the sides are clogged with old, stale fermenting matter. This may have a bowel movement every day but it is not a complete movement and the old, stale matter stays in the system to ferment and cause trouble. Bowels clogged with such unclean bowels cause headaches, stomach trouble and 99 per cent of all other sicknesses. The old, stale matter sticking to the bowels, in time, causes inflammation, poisoning the body and causing that distressing feeling known as "auto-intoxication."

HOW TO AVOID TROUBLE. One of the best ways to avoid trouble is to take a small amount of laxative matter every day. This will keep the bowels moving and prevent the accumulation of old, stale matter. Try it right now. You will feel the difference. The most common laxative is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a natural, safe, and effective laxative. It is sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle. A trial bottle can be obtained free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. M. Caldwell, 436 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

THE AMERICAN-JAPAN PACT.

The agreement recently signed by Viscount Ishii and Secretary of State Lansing, on behalf of the Japanese and the United States governments, respectively, is one of the most notable diplomatic events of the war period. Unquestionably it will be a welcome assurance to the allied governments that all dangers of a lack of harmony between Japan and America have been removed. It also will quiet all apprehension on the part of the Japanese people as to possible American interference in their affairs.

The announcement of the new understanding comes at a time when the sentiment of the United States has been transformed into a most gratifying cordiality toward Japan by the timely exposures and the warm assurances of Viscount Ishii as head of the diplomatic mission that has been in this country for the last two months.

Three principles of international practice and relations are reiterated in the Ishii-Lansing agreement as having the specific approval of the two governments.

1. Japan and the United States recognize that territorial propinquity creates special relations between countries, and consequently the United States government recognizes that Japan has special interests in China, particularly in the part to which her territories are contiguous.

2. "The territorial sovereignty of China, nevertheless, remains unimpaired," and China's sovereignty will in future be unimpaired by Japan's application of the "special interest" principle based on territorial propinquity. Both the United States and Japan declare that they have no purpose to infringe the integrity or the independence of China.

3. Both governments reaffirm the principle of the "open door" for industry and commerce, the American government accepting "with every confidence" the assurance that Japan has no desire to discriminate against the trade of other nations or to disregard the commercial rights heretofore granted by China in treaties with other powers.

The first of these "understandings" is a new statement in official interchanges regarding Japan and the Far East. It is a principle familiar to the students of nations, but, no doubt on account of suspicions regarding Japan's political aims, the other governments have refrained from openly consenting to its application by Japan to China. The United States has thus led the way in a frank official recognition of Japan's special status in regard to China. This government has utilized the principle in the application of the Monroe Doctrine and intervention in the affairs of Hawaii, the islands of the Caribbean and the Central American republics.

We may believe that Japan's motives in applying the principle will be as unsullied by selfishness as have been those of the United States. Then there will be no cause for complaint. Whether the negotiators of this new agreement intentionally omitted recognition of the mutual rights and special interests of nations whose territories are contiguous is not known. But this certainly ought to be perfectly understood.

The special interest of propinquity cannot be a one-sided affair. China must not be granted to have a special interest in Japan. To hold that one nation may boldly assert a special interest in a neighbor power without granting the qualified exercise of reciprocal rights would settle nothing. On the contrary, it would provide a fertile field for distrust, jealousies and continual complications which would always menace the peace. Particularly, this would be an impossible doctrine to set up in Europe.

As to the other two provisions of the agreement, nothing new is contained except that Japan asserts in stronger terms than ever before her endorsement of the "open door" doctrine which Secretary of State John Hay promulgated fifteen years ago. The whole question seems to be settled in this phrase:

"Moreover they [the two governments] mutually declare that they are opposed to the acquisition by any government of any special rights and privileges that would affect the independence or territorial integrity of China or would deny to the subjects or citizens of any country the full enjoyment of equal opportunity in the commerce and industry of China."

In bringing about a beneficial understanding between the United States and Japan, which will leave the two governments free of all embarrassments in devoting their energies to the efficient prosecution of the war, this result of the visit of the Ishii mission is to be accepted with deep general satisfaction. Whether it will remove permanently any of the obstacles to a complete China-Japan rapprochement must await the verdict of time.

THE HONOR SYSTEM.

Prof. James McKen Cattell, who was recently dismissed from the faculty of Columbia university because his criticism of the national government did not coincide with the view of the trustees of Columbia regarding national loyalty, devotes much space of a journal he edits, The School and Society, to a defense of his conduct. As the leading article of the October number he reprints an address which he delivered last May on the subject of "Academic Slavery." The leading newspapers, and perhaps individuals, have been circled with a copy of this issue of Prof. Cattell's publication.

The former Columbia instructor does not touch upon the merits of his criticism of the government in connection with the war. He aims merely to support the idea that as a member of the faculty of Columbia he was at perfect liberty to say and write what he pleased without consulting the wishes of the administrative body or the interests of the institution. He asserts that the disease endemic in universities is the expected observance of all instructors and officers of the traditions and ideals of the university.

Prof. Cattell complains against this and looks upon a college president as an oppressive evil. Although he does not say so plainly, his statements leave the clear impression that there should be no power to bring about coherence in the life of an educational institution, and no sign permitted to indicate to children and their parents what may be found within its walls. Having revolted against any kind of control, Prof. Cattell naturally would make the professorial ego self-sufficient, accountable to no one, and at liberty to perpetuate any idiosyncrasy the accidental owner might care to indulge.

After reading Prof. Cattell's views one cannot escape the question as to what he would expect the university authorities to do if they discovered a professor in an immoral liaison that had become a public scandal and a vicious influence. If he objects to control of his institutional service, no matter in what indefinable form, what would he say about intrusion into his personal vices?

Prof. Cattell is typical of many university instructors who refuse to recognize anything superior to their personal contribution to world knowledge and opinion, as appraised by themselves.

Against their view stands a very definitely outlined condition. While no large college or university has formulated rules for professorial conduct, or in any way limiting freedom of speech, all have accepted a measure of responsibility for the conduct of faculty members. But in discharging this responsibility, the university trustees or presidents are very considerate. They even write in the minutes that Prof. So-and-So is "elected." They have placed the professors under an honor system, one which constitutes the highest tribute to individual intelligence and self-responsibility.

It is only indicated in a general way that a university professor should be guided by common intelligence, moralities and decencies. He is never told what these are, being credited with knowing them; he is rarely reprimanded until he crosses the forbidden line. But when these fundamental, unwritten conditions are violated, as they are considered to have been by Prof. Cattell in disregarding national interests that are above all other, then the professor is usually kicked out.

Knowing the punishment, the professor is permitted to commit the offense, exclusively to present the evidence and pronounce his own sentence. Some would consider this an ideal manifestation of democracy.

SOUL TO THE DEVIL.

Mr. Otto H. Kahn, a German-born American and well-known New York banker and philanthropist, has become a leader in the nation-wide movement of loyal citizens of German birth and ancestry to teach all persons of similar blood ties, that the Germany of today is not the Germany the refugees of eighty years ago, loved but fled from with regret. Mr. Kahn describes the change thus:

"From each of my visits to Germany for twenty-five years I came away more appalled by the sinister transmutation Prussianism had wrought amongst the people and by the portentous menace I recognized in it for the entire world."

"It had given to Germany unparalleled prosperity, beneficent and advanced social legislation and not a few other things of value, but it had taken in payment the soul of the race. It had made a 'devil's bargain.'"

A grand first working session, the new Alameda grand jury has had presented to it a tale of crookedness and lawlessness at the county jail. It will find in the evidence of other unlawful practices, which is before it ends its work. That this grand jury, the expenses, only hopes to recommend and initiate its duty fearlessly and for correcting such evils by legal proceedings, time is not fitting for a public exposure. Such a "white-wash" and compromise. Such a "white-wash" of the county supported as the last grand jury the police chief persons undesirable, and his friends are examples to avoid.

NOTES and COMMENT

That the poets of America have organized to provide ambulance equipment for the war is good evidence that they are not dwelling in the clouds through this trouble. The first installment of fifty ambulances, seven barracks hospitals and thirty tent hospitals has arrived at Italian headquarters.

The charter has been drawn for the Polish state. Everybody except the Poles seems to be interested. The Poles are not as enthusiastic as one would think a people would be who had been partitioned and oppressed for one hundred and forty years. They may be unable to see that a beneficial change is to result from a constitution made in Germany.

It seems likely that Brazil will have something to do in taking care of the Germans within its gates. It would appear that wherever the Huns find themselves and think the government will be unable to take care of them there is trouble.

The sanitary inspector is to make a drive on rats. The rat is never a pleasant vermin, but now he eats and destroys food that is necessary in the mighty effort that is going forward to save the world. As in all other drives, everybody can do his bit.

The Contra Costan announces the suspension of the law of gravitation: "The law of gravitation has been suspended by the war. Things that go up never seem to come down. And this applies to food and clothing especially."

The Eureka Exemption Board resigns for apparently the same reason that the Lake county board sought to be released from further duty—alleged partiality higher up that rendered their positions embarrassing. If this was a job that could be thrown up, a resignation would be all there would be to it, but it seems that a resignation amounts to only a protest.

Poor little Rumania is not overlooked in the rushing to and fro and the figuring in hot haste. The United States loaned her $3,000,000 the other day, thus demonstrating this country's impartial interest in its allies.

It is observed that Senator Cummins has been taken to task for saying that the war will last three years and will cost this nation eighty billions. Since it was not a good purpose is served by the prophecy. There will be many to whom his utterance does not matter, but there will be others who are likely to be impressed because of the prognosticator's high position.

The Belleville, Ohio, Messenger gives out news from the front. "A card from Calvin Long informs us that he is in good health and is fortunate to have in his tent Clarence Spain, Herman Robinson and Harry Teeter. Albert Dill is among entire strangers, sleeping in a room with seventy-five boys whom he has never seen before."

What is seen to be necessary in the war zone is central authority. The insistence of this country on a joint board to conduct the war is a practical realization of that fact.

The full particulars of I. W. W. attacking a train of soldiers would be interesting. It must be that the soldiers did not have their guns with them.

Makers of flags, the emblems of patriotism, have not escaped the itch to profit from the great occasion. The Federal Trade Commission is taking them in hand, and if it shall not see fit to show that extreme consideration that investigating bodies sometimes do there will be a general absence of protest.

Colusa Sun tells of the Governor's visit: "Well, we had a visit from the Governor, and we found him a live wire. A man of learning and a great deal of both domestic and public experience, comprehensive views of all conditions. He has undoubtedly found that the best study of 'man is mankind.'"

An article in the current news informs us that the armies "are making ready to go during the winter." We did not catch this in the advice from the Isonzo front.

A despatch says that "fraternizing is frowned on" on the Russian battle line. It will be seen how severe things are with the Russians when they fight that way.

How the season hit big baseball may be judged when it is estimated that the season's losses of the National League were $250,000. If the greatest ball organization of the country lost money at that rate, how about the smaller leagues? But the big business expectations. The Cub directors have voted $200,000 to purchase players for next year.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Somebody has figured up that the cloth used in turn-up cuffs at trouser bottoms, one pair for each adult American male, would make a strip 15 inches wide from New York to San Francisco. Norfolk pleats waste even more cloth. Now that the ladies have reduced their skirts so generously, should we not make an effort and dispense with these accessories of male apparel?—Santa Rosa Republican.

Everything is growing in the valley now. In face of war, in face of all the apparent obstacles that seem to beset us, it seems as if nature is just bound that we shall be not only prosperous but bountifully supplied with garden things enough for our own immediate need, and with a surplus that may be put up for future use. However, the watchword of all the valleys, and the warm sunshine and growing weather is—helping the good work along mightily.—Holtsville Tribune.

A STATEMENT.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

A news item which appeared in your issue of November 2 under the headline "Demon Rum to Be Expelled from Local Schools," misrepresents the attitude of this organization, and we ask that, with its characteristic fairness, The TRIBUNE give place to the following communication to the Board of Education, which sets forth our position in this matter, in simply insisting that the law be complied with in teaching temperance, which we demand instead of the intrusion of volunteer advocates of prohibition, which, as a political issue, has no place in the curriculum of the public schools:

November 3, 1917.

"To Board of Education of the City of Oakland—

"Ladies and Gentlemen: In behalf of the women of the Allied Interests we desire to acknowledge the courtesy of your reply by Frederick Hunter, superintendent of schools, to our communication of October 9, 1917. We are pleased to accept the assurance that the statutes of the State of California will be 'strictly complied with' in the instruction in temperance in the public schools of the city of Oakland, and we assume that this is to be in conformity to section 1697 of the Political Code of this State, as follows:

"Instruction must be given in all grades of school and in all classes during the entire school course, in manners and morals and UPON THE NATURE OF ALCOHOLIC DRINKS AND NARCOTICS AND THEIR EFFECTS UPON THE HUMAN SYSTEM AS DETERMINED BY SCIENCE."

"This applies, we are advised by able attorneys, to instruction by teachers regularly employed and with the required credentials to give such instruction under the direction of the Board of Education and the supervision of the superintendent of schools and upon temperance, which we approve as a matter of personal conduct, and not upon prohibition as a political issue, repeatedly repudiated by the voters of this State.

The law, we insist, does not permit volunteer propagandists of partisan measures of doubtful expediency to usurp the office of the teacher by imposing their personal opinions upon pupils compelled to be present at school assemblies, upon which attendance is required by the principal.

"We refer specifically to the appearance of representatives of the W. C. T. U., committed to prohibition as a political issue, before assemblies of the pupils of the public schools in ex parte, or one side, statements. 960 OFFICERS CHOSEN FOR RECALL POLLS

The city council issued the formal call for the recall election to be held December 4 and named 960 election officers today for the 341 precincts. By an agreement among the commissioners the number of election officers was reduced from six to four in each polling place, making a saving of approximately $2500. The officers receive $5 for the day's work making a bill for this service of $4800. The choice of the officers for the precincts was in the hands of the individual commissioners.

A freakish element is injected into the procedure in handling the recall by the contradictions between the local charter recall provisions and the state law. It is probable that this will be the basis of numerous arguments between the city clerk's office and the election officers, and between the election officers and the voters at the polls. The situation is the obvious cause of considerable confusion.

The charter of Oakland governs the local recall. But the state election laws provide that the officers at the polling places must be provided with copies of the state laws, especially those governing the recall.

PROVISIONS DIFFER.

The Oakland recall provisions differ materially from the state law, with the natural consequence that election officers who read the state laws and regulations carefully and then try to "go by the book" become involved in a hopeless tangle. This was the case last year when the recall was held. The confusion was so great that the election officers were unable to conduct the polls in a proper manner.

The notable difference between the local charter and the state law is that in the state law the official to be recalled does not appear among the list of candidates to succeed him in case the recall is carried. In the Oakland charter he does.

If the difficulties of the Jackson case are paralleled, the city clerk's office will be busy on the telephone all day answering calls something like this:

"Why, you're all wrong. You've got Mayor Davies' name among the candidates, and this book of election rules says he shouldn't be there. Do we have to count the votes given him as a candidate?"

The source of confusion is partly due to the fact that the election officers are under the charter provisions, is in actual effect, two elections.

"ICE CREAMLESS DAY" WILL BE TRIED OUT HERE

The matinee girl must sip chocolate or coffee after the theater—or eat cake—for the festive nut sundae or the strawberry ice cream soda is to be conspicuous by its absence from the menus of the city's ice cream parlors.

Following the meeting of confectioners held last week in San Francisco, when practically every dealer about the bay, including the large manufacturers, agreed to the Thursday ban on ice cream as a food conservation measure, dealers tomorrow will try the experiment.

The plan, urged by the food administration, as a move to save sugar and milk, is being backed by all of Oakland's larger confectioners, and many of the smaller ones, and committees today interviewed the smaller establishments.

Ice cream will be eliminated from all menus tomorrow and in its place will be a plea to the public to refrain from ordering it, explaining the reasons therefor.

ROTARY CLUB TO RALLY FOR SCOUTS

The Oakland Boy Scouts of America are to start on another year of achievement by their big brothers of the Rotary Club, at a special Rotary luncheon tomorrow noon at the Hotel Oakland.

Invitations have been sent to some 200 non-Rotarian businessmen inviting them to participate in the "Better Boyhood" meeting. Superintendent of Schools Fred M. Hunter will speak on the educational feature and national scope of the Boy Scouts. H. C. Capwell, president of the Oakland Scout Council, will set forth the aims and needs of the local organization.

Following this meeting, at which every Rotarian will have done his bit toward the support of the Scout Movement, an intensive three-day campaign will be launched to raise the $10,000 required for the organization and extension work of the coming year.

The military formation of the campaign committee lined up to put the Scout budget "over the top" are as follows:

General—James Thavers, manager Pacific Coast Shredded Wheat Company and vice-president Oakland Scout Council.

Staff—H. D. Cross, national field scout commissioner; H. Richards Wilson, Oakland scout executive, and A. C. Hibbard, deputy scout commissioner.

Captains—Edgar H. Barber, Glen Barnhart, Thos. Bridges, Jos. Rosborough, Lewis Gess, Seymour Hall, John Howard, Max Horvinski, Herman Johnson, Hugh Kimball, E. C. Lyon, Robert McWilliams, John Mauerhan, Lawrence Moore, John Phillips, Dr. J. Loran Pease, W. H. Quinn, and J. C. Sweeney.

Y.M.C.A. TO RAISE WAR CAMP FUND

The work of the Y. M. C. A. at the training camps and at the front is making better fighters of American soldiers and it is the personal equation—the man strength—that will win this war," said David E. Perkins, speaking last night before the executive committee directing the Oakland "drive" for the national war work fund of thirty-five million dollars which the Young Men's Christian Association has launched. Perkins has assumed charge of a division of the local militant organization that is going after $50,000 from Oakland citizens.

"This money is to be invested in American manhood," continued Perkins. "It is to be used to make our American boys stronger, physically, mentally, morally, better able to fight for democracy, to fight for your home and my home, for America's ideals, for humanity. Gentlemen, Oakland citizens should not only invest $50,000, they should invest $200,000 in this magnificent work."

"The mothers and the fathers of the men in training camp and at the front know what it means to have the home influence of the Y. M. C. A. follow the fighting boys of America wherever they go. They can testify with letters written by their boys on Y. M. C. A. stationery, with glowing accounts of the entertainment features of the Y. M. C. A. 'hut' with the stories of the baseball games and the football games made possible by the Y. M. C. A. Why gentlemen, we shouldn't have to ask any citizen to give to the Y. M. C. A. war work, every citizen should volunteer his dollar."

And Perkins expressed the sentiments of the earnest men and women who are behind the war work fund drive in Oakland and elsewhere throughout the land.

DOWNTOWN HEADQUARTERS.

Impetus to the local "drive" will be given by the establishment of downtown headquarters of the Y. M. C. A. during the campaign. Arrangements are being completed today for the use of the tenth floor of the Syndicate building, where the Liberty Loan committee had its headquarters.

Volunteers are asked to report to headquarters. Speakers, salesmen, workers of all kinds who want to do something for the American soldier are wanted.

Something for the men who are making the supreme sacrifice, if necessary, for the "stay-at-homes" or those unable to face the firing line.

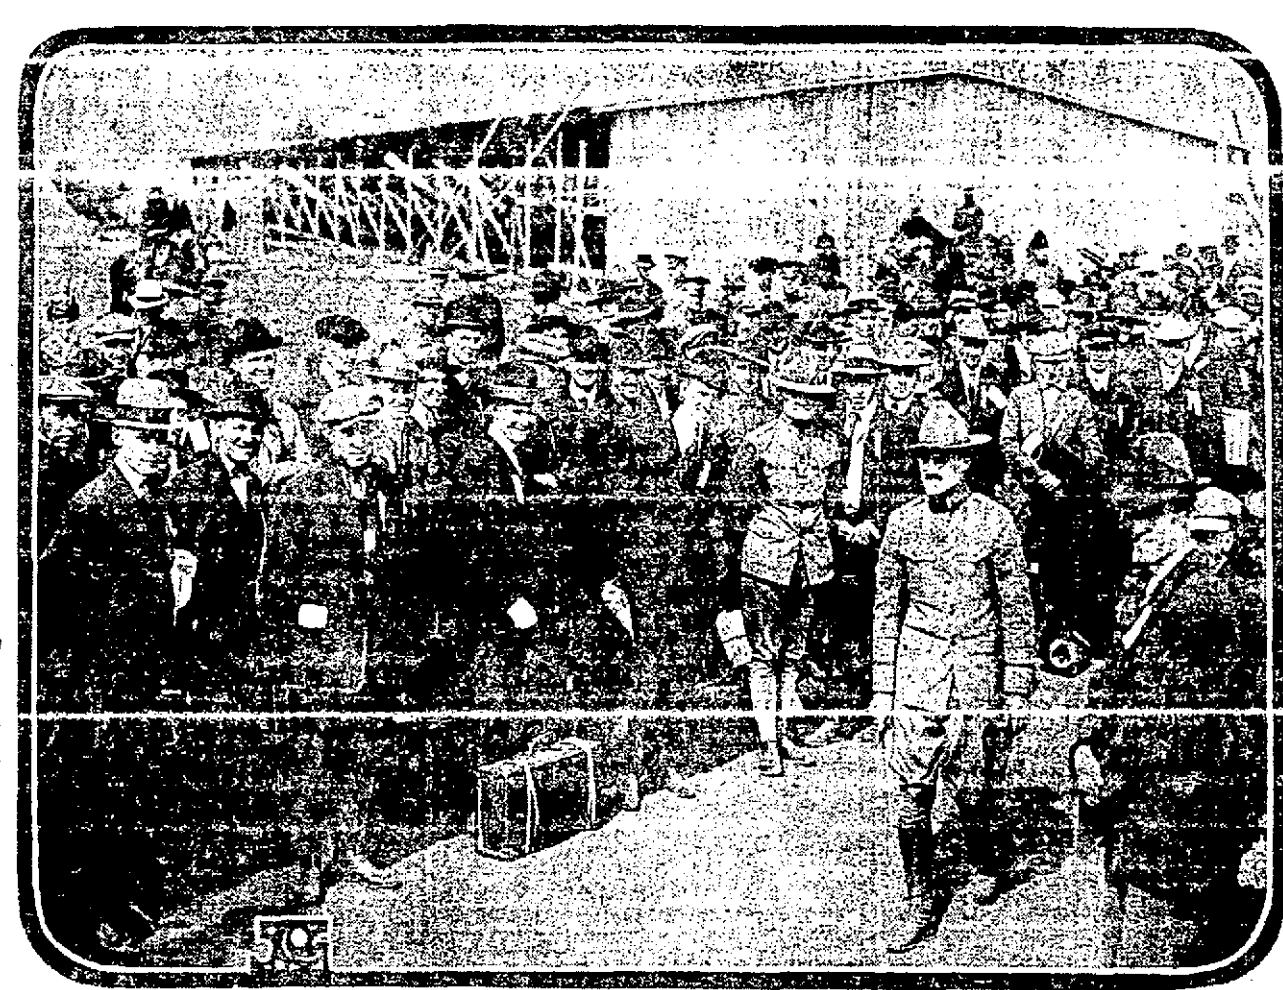

WOMEN LINE UP.

Additional impetus has come from the women of the city. Three division commanders, comprising an executive campaign committee—Mrs. W. E. Sharon, Mrs. Charles J. Proding, Mrs. A. M. Manheim—have volunteered to help in the "drive" for $50,000.

Mrs. Harris C. Capwell has assumed the captaincy of one of the teams. Twenty other women captains will be announced shortly.

Friday evening in the Y. M. C. A. building a rousing meeting of the division commanders, both men and women, and the various teams and their captains will be held. To this meeting everyone interested in the work of the Y. M. C. A. is invited.

"AVERAGE COAL" NOT TAKEN HERE

Protests filed today with the Retail Coal Dealers Association of San Francisco by the retail men of that city, alleging that wholesalers are supplying them with "average coal," which, through the necessity for screening, raises the price to the consumer by about 10 per cent will not affect local markets, according to a statement issued by the local coal men on this side of the bay.

One exemption of Alameda county is said to be due to the fact that there is considerable wagon-load business in "work off" second grade coal. In such quantity, they are in a position to dictate the kind of coal they want. Some time ago, say local coal men, the coal operators attempted to sell "run-off" mine coal direct from the mines without screening to Oakland dealers. The latter refused to buy and drew on their coal reserve stocks.

In San Francisco, however, where there is considerable wagon-load business, the small men are compelled to take what is handed to them. The coal operators, declare the retailers, have taken advantage of this situation to "work off" second grade coal. Appeals to the government at Washington in the case of the local dealers also worked added relief in the situation through federal restrictions, it is claimed.

At the head of the local retailers on this side of the bay, declared today that Oakland was not suffering from the increased price through the second grade coal on account of local material being purchased in carload lots.

California Soldiers Big Factor Camp Lewis Boys Are Praised

SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.

California soldiers are a big factor in the winning of the war is the declaration of Colonel E. W. Clark, West Pointer, and Philippine fighter in command of the 36th Infantry, who pays high tribute to the material which is coming to the training camp from the best of the west coast states.

"Never in a quarter of a century during my experience in the United States Army have I come in contact with a finer body of men than the Californians in the Ninety-first Division of the National Army. They are fine types of western manhood. They work hard, learn rapidly and apply themselves in a manner that will make them worthy members of the most efficient fighting force the world has ever seen."

"The 1500 new men who have come from the 19th depot brigade are of the same type. There is a spirit among them that I admire—the spirit of nothing more than a great university. The enthusiasm is contagious and invigorating. They are making me a better soldier because of it. These men will make the State of California very proud of them."

THROUGH ARMY SIFTER.

The camp life is working wonders for the boys in training. They came there with all manner of caste, racial and financial distinctions between them. Rich men and poor men, intelligent and uneducated men, methodical and careless men were jumbled together. Then the army officers took hold of them and started the process of sifting them through the military sifter. They are coming out soldiers, competent fighting men, nervy, determined, well trained units. No individuality has been lost. It has been concentrated.

The daily life is developed toward this end. The big thing is the drill. Daily four miles of turf is ground under foot by the swinging feet of the marchers. They are making me a better soldier because of it. These men will make the State of California very proud of them."

CAMP AUGMENTED.

Thirteen men arrived under arrest today from the military prison at Alcatraz. The men included nine from California and one each from Illinois, Utah, Nevada and Washington. They were taken into custody for failure to comply with the draft regulations, but as their infractions were due to ignorance, were not charged with any offense. With the arrival of the train loads of men from southern districts today, the camp population has been augmented by some 12,000 men, the majority of which comprise the fourth quota.

The body of Edward Regan of Company G, 36th Infantry, who died at a base hospital November 5 from pneumonia, was taken south today by his brother, George Regan of San Francisco. Regan was ill only a few days.

OAKLAND IS GAINING IN PLEDGE RACE

Oakland is being called upon to make good in the food conservation drive and the signing of food pledges. By reason of the tremendously large territory which the limited number of workers have been obliged to cover within the week the time limit has been extended until each household has been visited and offered one of the simple blanks.

California will make a record, going well over the full 500,000 quota which was asked by Ralph P. Merritt, federal food administrator for the state with offices in San Francisco, is the opinion of local workers. Already there has been an official count made of 528,111 signed pledges with telegraphic advices of 75,000 additional assured. Alameda county has offered 25,357 to the food drive, with Contra Costa county rolling up 6296 signatures against the 10,000 which was asked. San Francisco has sent in 20,000 pledges.

To complete the brisk campaign, the local women workers are being asked to volunteer for precinct visiting either in their own or more distant neighborhoods. Ebbel yesterday contributed a corps of new workers while the Mma. de Hemptinne Circle, organized for Belgian relief, offered its organization in the days which remain in covering the Piedmont section.

Eighty-five per cent of the school children of Berkeley have volunteered a supplementary food pledge which is not counted in the report of the Mobilized Women's Organization to the federal food administrator. The students above the second grade, numbering 4295, have given their signatures to a document which promises that they will save waste in their lunches; that they will use waxy substitutes and shavers for ice cream, thus saving sugar and dairy products. In the plan the Berkeley women have the co-operation of the confectioners.

EIGHT MILLION SIGN.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The eight million mark has been passed on the score board of the family enrollment campaign in the Washington headquarters of the food administration and indications are that when all returns are in they will show that half of the people of the country have agreed to support the administration's plan for food conservation. The latest compilation gives a total of 8,000,151.

Iowa reports 144,200 signed pledge cards which place it a second place in the list of states. This figure not only puts Iowa in the group of states which have exceeded their quota but also places it in second place, both as to total number of signed cards and as to percentage of families enrolled in comparison with population. California, with nearly 450,000 signatures is still first in totals. Iowa now has 76 per cent of all her families enrolled for food conservation being exceeded only by Louisiana which displays a record of 88 per cent. Maine, which with 66 per cent has been second, drops to third and New Hampshire with 64 per cent is fourth.

Alaska reports that in one day 155 cards were signed in Juneau and neighboring mining camps.

IS HONOR SLACKER

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Federal Commissioner Kootie took the word of Fred W. Darley of Los Angeles that he would return to that city to stand trial as a slacker, and Darley is on his way today under arrest, but unguarded. Darley was apprehended here for failing to register for the army draft.

STRANGER SLAIN

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 7.—Dr. D. B. Wray, a stranger here, was found dead on the stairs in a hotel here with his skull crushed. A hotel bill on the body showed he had been in Austin, Tex., for three days last week. R. O. Naylor is being held here in connection with the murder, pending further investigation.

Shortage of Optical Glass

Despite the shortage of optical glass, wearers of "Caltex Onepiece" Bifocals will experience no difficulty in having their lenses duplicated or replaced promptly. The glasses these lenses are ground from in America. The art of making optical glass has been perfected in this country since the war and it is superior to that which was formerly imported from Europe. This means—never again will "Caltex Onepiece" Bifocals or any good glasses be made from foreign glass—American science has again conquered.

BREAD COST CONTROL BY U.S. PLANNED

Direct action to control the price of bread and fix the size of a standard loaf will be taken soon by President Wilson in a proclamation placing all bakers under the license system. The proclamation will be issued by the president, and will be considered as a measure of the government's power to control the food supply. The proclamation will make it possible for the food administration to control the price and size of the loaf, according to word received today from Washington. Considerable reduction of prices in many localities is expected to be the immediate result.

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a cupful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

Buyers Are Cheated, Says Official Produce Sacks "Short," He Holds

Alleging that purchasers of potatoes and onions have been cheated to the extent of 15 and 20 pounds on each sack, Strobbridge declares that he has found a large quantity of what is known as "fancy bread" that weighed 4 pounds to the loaf under weight. The principal offenders in this latter respect, he says, have been San Francisco bakers who sold their goods on this side of the bay.

The sealer of weights and measures declares that he has received many complaints from small bakers throughout the county to the effect that the master bakers have exerted pressure to compel them to advance the price of bread to the uniform scale recently announced, and which will be said by the authorities, likely constitute the subject of a grand jury investigation.

who come under the license system inaugurated under a proclamation of the President on November 1 have failed to apply to the food administration for licenses and may find themselves in trading difficulties.

Food Administrator Hoover today announced that stern measures will be invoked against dealers who try to evade the license system. He issued a warning to his field agents in all states that unless those who are unable to the provisions of the food control act file their applications at once, such concerns will be "blacklisted." All state food administrators were reminded of the regulation which stipulates that no license shall knowingly buy any food commodities from or sell any such commodities to or handle any such commodities for any person required to have a license who has not secured such license and complied with the provisions of this act.

Administrators were informed that this rule will be rigidly enforced. Fully 20,000 licenses have been sent to dealers in all parts of the country accompanied by rules and regulations. The license division is also sending out inventory forms to all licensed dealers in foodstuffs. All licensees will be required to make full reports to Administrator Hoover, giving complete details of the condition of their business on November 1. These inventories will be used in comparisons with later reports to determine whether dealers are hoarding foodstuffs or engaging in other illegal practices.

EXPLANATION OF SPEECH DEMANDED

Demand that David C. Dutton, candidate for mayor in the recall election against Mayor John L. Davis explain his reference to the alleged "friendship" between George Kaufman, the Mayor's advisor, and the Union Construction Company, was made in a letter from H. C. Peake of the construction company, addressed to Dutton. When shown a copy of the letter, Dutton said he had not yet received the communication, and would not reply to it until he had received it and had time to consider it carefully. He said he would make a statement tomorrow.

The letter from the Union Construction Company follows:

"Dear Sir:—Certain daily newspapers of Oakland in publishing remarks made by you at a luncheon of Oakland business men of recent date, wherein reference is made by you to the friendship existing between John L. Davis and Mr. George Kaufman, quote you as follows:

"Now that friendship is working in a peculiar way and was the reason behind the Union Construction Company. These Kaufman disappeared when the lease went to another bidder? There's notation on the plans for the paving of East Fourteenth street that explains that. They have arranged to divert $25,000 from that fund to dredge in front of another site for the Union Construction Company. Is it necessary to explain who the Union Construction Company is?"

ASKS EXPLANATION.
"Inasmuch as you have seen fit to introduce the name of the Union Construction Company into your public address, and as a statement that implied some doubt as to our methods in applying for a lease of land on the western waterfront of Oakland, and a further doubt as to the personnel of our company, we feel impelled, in justice to ourselves, to ask that you state directly and without equivocation just what is meant by your declaration that 'Now that friendship is working in a peculiar way and was the reason behind the Union Construction Company,' and also what is meant by the concluding question, 'Is it necessary to explain who the Union Construction Company is?'"

"Very truly yours,
"BY H. G. PEAKE."

ASKS DIVORCE
Margaret Cleaves Porta has asked a divorce from her Italian husband, Peter Porta, alleging that when she traveled to Manila, where he was employed as superintendent of the Otis Elevator Company, to marry him, he deceived her with a declaration that he never expected to marry her. She charges further that he bragged about pretty women he knew and insisted upon his wife performing valet services for him.

OFFICERS NAMED FOR RECALL POLLS

Logically, if there were two elections, the first would be a ballot on whether or not the mayor should be recalled. This settled against a recall, the second would be a ballot on whether or not the mayor should be recalled. Should the recall carry the election, the second election would be a nominating election for his successor. There might still be a third election in case none of the candidates received a full majority of the vote.

ROLLED INTO ONE.
In the Oakland method the recall and the nominating election are rolled into one. The same thing occurs in the state election. But in the state law procedure the decision made by the vote on the upper half of the ballot, the first or recall election, is effective and final so far as the official to be recalled is affected. But under the Oakland charter he has another chance.

Under state law and under the Oakland charter, if the majority votes against the recall, that ends the matter at the first election. Under state law if the majority votes in favor of the recall that ends the matter so far as the man recalled is concerned. He is recalled and does not appear in the list of nominees. His case is ended and the lower half of the ballot is for the nominating election of one of his opponents to run at the final election, or to the election of one of his opponents.

HAS ANOTHER CHANCE.
In the Oakland charter, however, he has another chance. If the recall is successful and he is recalled, his name is still on the ballot and he may run first or second in this group of four candidates. If he runs first or second, he is officially one of two candidates to run at the final election. If he runs third or fourth, he is not officially a candidate to run at the final election.

The meeting was held in part to state the Taylor campaign and in part to protest against the recall of Mayor John L. Davis. The meeting was held in part to state the Taylor campaign and in part to protest against the recall of Mayor John L. Davis. The meeting was held in part to state the Taylor campaign and in part to protest against the recall of Mayor John L. Davis.

ASKS DAMAGES
A suit for $50,000 damages for false discharge brought by James M. Adams against the Southern Pacific Company, by whom the plaintiff was employed as a conductor, is being tried today in Judge Donahue's department of the Superior Court.

The complaint alleges that the reason assigned for the dismissal, which occurred in 1910, was "conduct unbecoming a conductor," and denies that the plaintiff was guilty of the charge.

In 1910 the plaintiff secured a judgment for $5000 from the company against W. H. Cameron, a shirt manufacturer of Napa, who wrote to the railroad company a letter containing an account of the alleged misconduct, and on account of which the dismissal occurred. The defendant company in the present suit sets up in its answer that because of the plaintiff having received the judgment, he is barred from bringing the present action, it being characterized as an effort to recover twice for the same injury.

MRS. OLNEY DIES
Mrs. Caroline May Olney, a pioneer club woman of the east bay cities, died at the home of her father, Thomas B. Ricker, 5 Enoch place, Berkeley, today, after a brief illness.

Mrs. Olney had been prominently connected with the good roads movement and with other civic and club activities. She was fully acquainted with the Oakland Home Club and of Oakland center of the California Civic League.

Thomas B. Ricker, the father, and two sisters, Mrs. A. Lowens Scott of Berkeley and Miss Alice B. Ricker of Berkeley, survive. The funeral will be held tomorrow from the family home in Berkeley.

PERSONAL
Ralph Sharon, Fresno businessman, arrived in Oakland today for a visit. He is registered at the Hotel Oakland.

Charles Spiegelberg of New York, one of the best-known of the older traveling writers on this coast, and prominent in the Western Travelers Association, is registered at the Oakland.

Arthur L. Price of Los Angeles, engineer for several big electrical projects in the south, is a visitor in Oakland, where he is to confer with local railroad engineers on new methods. He is staying at the St. Mark.

MANY POLICE HEADS AT BALL
More police captains than ever assembled in Oakland on any occasion will be present at the seventh annual ball of the police department which will be held in the Municipal Auditorium on November 22, according to arrangements that have been made by the entertainment committee.

From all of the cities about the bay and from interior cities delegations of the local department. San Francisco will send a contingent of eight, Berkeley will be represented by Chief Palmer and aides, and Alameda, Emeryville, Piedmont and police dignitaries from other towns in the county will be present.

Gold braid and brass buttons will contribute a semi-military aspect to the occasion which is for the exclusive benefit of the Oakland chapter of the Red Cross, which will receive the entire net proceeds. Wives and guests of the visiting police officers will be entertained by the women of the local department and a number of exclusive features are being planned for the occasion.

TURKEY PRICE PROMISES TO SOAR HIGHER

Despite assurances from the food administration that by forcing the turkey raisers of Texas, where the majority of the birds are raised, to sell at a certain price, commission merchants are still in doubt as to how much Oakland will pay for its Thanksgiving birds. The food administration's idea, the commission men declare, would be a good one except for the fact that the taking of turkeys out of storage for Thanksgiving has already been arranged for by the sellers, and that the present prospect of a rise in turkey fully takes into consideration these storage supplies.

The turkeys in storage, the commission men gather from market reports, will total some 200 carloads—a drop in the bucket even in the New York trade, where 100 cars a week in poultry is less than normal trade. According to S. Herman, local commission man, the dealers in poultry cannot see how this will help in any way to bring down prices.

WILL WITHHOLD TURKEYS.
According to the commission men the poultry raisers of Texas, where the majority of the turkey supply is raised, have agreed not to kill any birds before December 1. This means that the producers themselves will have forced all storage goods out into the market before Christmas. The Texas production of turkeys will be less this year than average, as conditions have been bad. This makes a heavy raise by Christmas almost certain.

Farmers in California at present are demanding 25 to 40 cents a pound for their turkeys, some holding them for as high as 40 cents, according to local dealers. There is no law to prevent this.

PRICES NOT REDUCED.
The food administration today announced in Washington that the food control law, involved to force turkeys out of cold storage, would lower Thanksgiving day prices. In the meantime turkeys are selling live in the Oakland markets around 30 cents, with the demand increasing steadily. Herman will not predict the price by Thanksgiving, but shows the heavy general rises in poultry over last year and the heavy rise in turkeys last year as the demand increased and supply decreased between Thanksgiving and Christmas. It is certain, however, say the commission men, that forcing turkeys out of storage will not affect the present market situation.

KING OF POLAND

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 7.—Emperor Carl of Austria has assumed the title of king of Poland, says a despatch received today from Berlin, which quotes the Lokal Anzeiger. The article continues as follows: "The late sitting of the crown council has solved the Polish situation, according to Austria's wishes. Poland becomes attached to Austria and Galicia will be part of Poland." Lithuania and Courland, the paper states, will in all probability be allied with Prussia.

Blue Bird Bureau

Perhaps you have seen in the windows reminders that Christmas is coming, that you must think of shopping, and sending out cards, and answering invitations, and you have said in your heart:

"What a bore!" But somewhere about the house there has been a little voice singing and shouting, and the words of the refrain were far different. They go something like this:

"Christmas is coming! Christmas is coming! Christmas is coming!" It is the voice of childhood beginning its song of joy for the children's festival. Without knowing that its shout is a summons, the song is calling to all Good Fellows to make ready, that there shall be no disappointment for the heart of any child anywhere in the City of Oakland, or within reach of a Good Fellow, who shall suffer disappointment on Christmas morning.

—MANY CHILDREN ARE MADE HAPPY
It was back in 1912 that the OAKLAND TRIBUNE first started its Good Fellow movement at Christmas time, and that year several hundred boys and girls who would otherwise have been forgotten on Christmas eve and Christmas day received toys and the joy of Christmas cheer.

The following year the work was taken up again, and was increased, until last year, through the Blue Bird Bureau and the Good Fellowship work, more than 120 children in Oakland were taken care of by the Good Fellows of this city.

This is the announcement that the work is being renewed this year, and that the columns of THE TRIBUNE are again to be made the clearing house for Good Fellowship.

No particular credit is claimed by THE TRIBUNE. It is merely an opportunity offered to bring a little happiness, to do a little good.

Money is not being asked for. Neither are toys asked for by this department. The Good Fellowship you are asked to perform will be your individual task and pleasure, carried out in your own way.

The Blue Bird Bureau has already a list of names of children who will have no "Christmas" this year unless some Good Fellow provides it. The Bureau will furnish these names on application from the Good Fellows of Oakland, and then it is up to the one who takes the name to see that the child in question is cared for on Christmas Eve or Christmas day.

—WHAT TO DO IS YOUR OWN AFFAIR
What you do for the child is your own affair. It may be only a doll and some candy for some little girl, or some toys and candy for some small boy. The choice is yours. It may be that you will find that a pair of shoes is needed more than anything else, but that in addition there must be some little toy, be it ever so cheap, to make the child remember that it is really Christmas time.

There will be many children this year who will get no Christmas cheer unless the Good Fellows go to work and put their hearts into the task. For though more people are employed, the high cost of living brought about by the war has left a smaller margin for "extras" in the purse of the working family than in previous years. The Associated Charities have already begun to feel the burden of this situation. Families who have never before applied for aid, are doing so now, and are asking as much for advice, expert advice in keeping down the family budget, as for material assistance. The wages have not risen to the subsistence level in many cases, and there is nothing left over for Christmas.

—WILL ASCERTAIN WHAT CHILDREN NEED
The Blue Bird Bureau cannot do all the work. Applications for Christmas cheer for children must be quietly and carefully looked into, so that the girl who wants a little dress, or a new apron will not be given a puzzle picture, if that can be avoided. And some cases do not prove to be actual cases of need. Children often write to this Santa Claus Blue Bird Bureau that they fear they will be forgotten. But when the letter is investigated, it is found that the father is working, and that there will be enough in the home, without outside aid, to give the child a happy Christmas. Such families cheerfully tell us that they are not in need of aid. But the Blue Bird Bureau needs some Good Fellow helpers to look into these cases. We want to see that the Christmas cheer is given to all who need it.

Those who are willing to help, either by taking care of a family, or by giving some toys, or by helping investigate conditions, are asked to visit the Blue Bird Bureau at THE TRIBUNE office, telephone to Lakeside 6000, or to write and say what part of the work will prove most congenial.

FOR LIBRARY BIDS
Bids will be called for by the library board next week for the construction of two new branch libraries which will cost approximately $35,000 each. The branches will be at Forty-eighth and Telegraph avenue and at Fifty-seventh and San Pablo avenue.

ROADS TO LIMIT EXPORT SHIPMENT
Railroads of the country today applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington for permission to refuse export shipments routed via Pacific coast points unless cargo space had already been arranged. The move is to relieve freight congestion and affects Oakland, San Francisco, Seattle, Tacoma, Los Angeles and other coast ports.

In the application the railroads specified that the permission was requested to apply to westbound freight only. The eastern condition has not yet become subject to control of this nature. Shortage of steamers, fear of sea-raiders and lack of adequate facilities with which to handle cargoes, together with cramped wharves, is said to be behind the railroad request.

The commission will rush its findings as rapidly as possible in order that a ruling may be had in time for the late year movement of freight toward the Orient.

SAILORS GUESTS
East bay members of the British American League are planning to take part in the open night entertainment of the organization tomorrow night in Forester Hall, 172 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco. The officers and men of H. M. S. Orbita have been invited. The program will include singing by Mrs. Minnie Comery and Fred Head. Head will also have something to say concerning Canada. There will be a violin solo by Horace Youngren and a monologue by Mrs. Aggie Ayres.

PLAN FUNERAL
Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 o'clock for Lucien C. F. Kuchel, who died Sunday in Fresno, where he was manager of the Sunnyside Club. He had been a resident of Oakland for ten years and leaves a widow who resides at 1125 Twelfth street, where the funeral will be held. There also will be a service at the California Crematorium. Kuchel was a native of Switzerland. The officers and men of H. M. S. Orbita have been invited. The program will include singing by Mrs. Minnie Comery and Fred Head. Head will also have something to say concerning Canada. There will be a violin solo by Horace Youngren and a monologue by Mrs. Aggie Ayres.

SEEK MISSING GIRL
Mildred De Rosa, a 17-year-old girl who disappeared from her home at 1501 Thirty-ninth avenue October 25, is being sought by the police today at the request of Joseph De Rosa, her father. According to the report, the girl left home in the morning with the idea of going to West Berkeley to seek employment in a glove factory, and a room and time on her movements are a mystery.

TO FACE TRIAL
After entering a plea of guilty, Herman Weissing, who is charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, today changed his plea to not guilty and the case was continued in the police court until November 13. Weissing was arrested at Sixty-third and Telegraph after he had driven his car into a street pole.

WOMEN HERE REJOICE IN N. Y. VICTORY

Women of California, who for many years have had the ballot, are rejoicing today in the victory which has come to the women of New York, who by popular vote have been granted the elective franchise. The state of New York was the cradle of the great suffrage fight, which has been sweeping the nation, the first convention to discuss a political liberty for men and women alike having been called there as long ago as 1848. While the new states came into the privilege of suffrage for their women citizens, the older and more conservative commonwealth held to its precedent.

Mrs. Agnes Ray, president of the Suffrage Club in Oakland, which was a large factor in the local suffrage fight, when victory came to the women of California, and now a member of the State Board of Education, participated in two of the notable suffrage parades which have been staged in New York in the present successful drive and has been a spectator at some of the largest demonstrations. In discussing the victory which has come to the women of the Atlantic coast, Mrs. Ray said:

"I knew the last time I marched in the New York parade that suffrage could never lose again. There was a general demand for the ballot, with the best sentiment of the country. I knew the forces which were opposing it. In the parade of four years ago the marchers could pass with difficulty down Fifth avenue. They were hissed and hooted. Two years ago the attitude of the people had changed. We were applauded and given respect. There was not a chance against the growing sentiment that the amendment could be lost yesterday."

VICTORY MEANS MUCH
Mrs. Frederick C. Turner, a leader in the California suffrage campaign as an officer in California branch, Association of Collegiate Alumnae, and now chairman of the California women's committee, Councils of National and State defense, said: "None of us in California knows what this means to the women of New York because our campaign was so easily won. The victory of yesterday is of hard work. The sacrifice and labor which the leaders have given to the drive can never be known. I believe the message of President Wilson a few days ago was a factor in winning the amendment."

Mrs. Elmer Carlisle of Berkeley, a prominent figure in the old guard of suffrage workers and a former member of the Board of Education in Berkeley, said: "It is a paradox that the strongest and most patriotic appeal to the women of the nation to stand by, and yet as citizens it does not recognize the suffrage amendment. The women of the nation should be granted a national amendment. Women should have something to say in this crisis. Suffrage is a flood which nothing can stop. It is sweeping over the nation. I can only say that New York's victory is splendid. They said the Maine amendment lost because of the Washington pickets. I wonder what they will have to say now of the poor old pickets in view of the New York returns."

MAKES FIGHT EASIER
Miss Ethel Moore, member of the State Council of Defense, who was an ardent campaigner for the California suffrage amendment, said:

"The women of California extend to the women of New York their heartiest congratulations. The fight which they have won will make it easier to succeed in other states where suffrage is an issue and in other states where yet the amendment is to be offered."

Mrs. Sarah Sorland, a pioneer civic and suffrage worker in Alameda county, said: "New York is my home state. It is like being born again to know the women there have won victory in suffrage. They are a magnificent body who have educated themselves so wonderfully and well that they are in a position to take the responsibility which has been laid upon them. They will stand for what is good, clean, fair and are prepared to enter into a high service for their state and nation. It is a splendid achievement."

Dr. Minora Kibbe said: "This is woman's day and they are coming into their own. Men are appreciating the work which they are doing and can do no less than grant them justice. As a mass, women's moral standards are higher, and being given the responsibility of civic thinking, they will rise to it. I am glad for the women of New York."

COURTESY? CO-EDS READY TO WAIVE IT

Scorn and sarcasm are being loosed by indignant co-eds of the University of California today upon Professor C. H. Rieber, head of the philosophy department, over his declaration that "women are a hindrance because the innate courtesy of the men forces them to give way if any competition arises," and that on this account "the men of the university are working under a handicap when there are women in a class."

Miss Jane Kende, a student, takes up the case of her fellow co-eds in a voluntary reply to Professor Rieber's statement.

"Men with 'innate courtesy' were not forced to give up the best seats and were able to pay full attention to the lecture on logic because the women were absent, forsooth," writes Miss Kende. "I start to doubt the 'innate courtesy' of the men."

"That 'innate courtesy' of men toward women was the thing I loved most in the United States. I preferred your frank 'how do you do?' to the ever-polite French bow and welcomed your firm handshake instead of the German kisses die bund."

"But you complain lately so much about the growing number of the fair co-eds. You are so frightened because the senior bench is too much exposed, you cannot swear freely. And our ab-

"MAIL EARLY," IS POSTOFFICE PLEA TO CITY

"Mail Early."
"Don't put so much mail in the downtown mail boxes between 2 and 4 o'clock."

This is the plea being sent out to the citizens of Oakland by Postmaster J. J. Rosborough, assisted by the Chamber of Commerce. At the present time all business houses are mailing between 2 and 4 in the afternoon, making a congestion of mail in downtown districts at this time which is increasing as the Christmas rush is growing.

Through the Chamber Rosborough is asking that all firms endeavor to mail a portion of their letters and packages in the mornings that they may be gotten out of the way before noon. This, he says, will greatly facilitate efficient handling of mails in the Christmas rush.

ASKS DISSOLUTION.
In a complaint against his partner, George Nicholson of the People's Milk Company, J. A. Hamilton asks for an accounting and for a dissolution of the partnership, charging misconduct of the defendant partner in connection with the business.

sence, you say, is a support to you in fighting for your privileges. Now I am beginning to doubt your courtesy. I would be so grateful to the men on the campus if they would be frank enough to swear when they feel like it, courteous enough not to give up their seats if they don't feel like it. For we women are frank enough to tell that we will not let anyone's fight with our absence. That we will be present in all phases of life. And we will have good marks not because the men students are giving up their best seats for us, but because we are willing to learn, to understand and to do good work."

SUNSPOTS AS RAIN CAUSE IS DISPUTED

What makes rain? "Sunspots," asserts Father Ricard of Santa Clara University. "Bunk," says Professor R. T. Crawford of the astronomy department of the University of California, who, thus in other words, refutes the prediction of Father Ricard that on account of sunspots there will be rain and cold this month.

Professor Crawford, in lecturing to his astronomy class, today declared that sunspots can have no effect on the weather, and that they do not cause rainstorms. Father Ricard holds a different opinion, and has publicly predicted rain and cold for November, using his study of sunspots as a basis for his conclusions. With which side of the argument Jupiter Pluvius agrees will probably remain speculative. Meantime he's preparing for business, without the slightest consideration of academic controversies.

DISCOVER GERMAN PLOT.
DENVER, Colo., Nov. 7.—What is believed by federal agents and police to have been a plot by German agents to destroy factories in this city working on war materials, was disclosed today with the finding of several bombs near the Globe Foundry Company's plant here.

ROADS TO LIMIT EXPORT SHIPMENT

Railroads of the country today applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington for permission to refuse export shipments routed via Pacific coast points unless cargo space had already been arranged. The move is to relieve freight congestion and affects Oakland, San Francisco, Seattle, Tacoma, Los Angeles and other coast ports.

In the application the railroads specified that the permission was requested to apply to westbound freight only. The eastern condition has not yet become subject to control of this nature. Shortage of steamers, fear of sea-raiders and lack of adequate facilities with which to handle cargoes, together with cramped wharves, is said to be behind the railroad request.

SAILORS GUESTS
East bay members of the British American League are planning to take part in the open night entertainment of the organization tomorrow night in Forester Hall, 172 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco. The officers and men of H. M. S. Orbita have been invited. The program will include singing by Mrs. Minnie Comery and Fred Head. Head will also have something to say concerning Canada. There will be a violin solo by Horace Youngren and a monologue by Mrs. Aggie Ayres.

PLAN FUNERAL
Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 o'clock for Lucien C. F. Kuchel, who died Sunday in Fresno, where he was manager of the Sunnyside Club. He had been a resident of Oakland for ten years and leaves a widow who resides at 1125 Twelfth street, where the funeral will be held. There also will be a service at the California Crematorium. Kuchel was a native of Switzerland. The officers and men of H. M. S. Orbita have been invited. The program will include singing by Mrs. Minnie Comery and Fred Head. Head will also have something to say concerning Canada. There will be a violin solo by Horace Youngren and a monologue by Mrs. Aggie Ayres.

SEEK MISSING GIRL
Mildred De Rosa, a 17-year-old girl who disappeared from her home at 1501 Thirty-ninth avenue October 25, is being sought by the police today at the request of Joseph De Rosa, her father. According to the report, the girl left home in the morning with the idea of going to West Berkeley to seek employment in a glove factory, and a room and time on her movements are a mystery.

TO FACE TRIAL
After entering a plea of guilty, Herman Weissing, who is charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, today changed his plea to not guilty and the case was continued in the police court until November 13. Weissing was arrested at Sixty-third and Telegraph after he had driven his car into a street pole.
